Egypt Acts To Block Gulf

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — France and Britain—Israel's allies in the 1956 Suez war—called today for international efforts to cool off the Middle East crisis as Egypt was reported moving on land, sea and in the air to block Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

At the same time, Mecca radio reported Saudi Arabia had been declared in a state of general mobilization for possible war with Israel.

The French government suggested joint action by the four big powers with "a particular responsibility in the safeguarding of peace" — France, the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union. A Cabinet spokesman in Paris said details of such action had not been worked out.

In Britain, Prime Minister Harold Wilson told a labor union meeting his government was seeking a solution through the United Nations and was ready to join any other countries in keeping the Gulf of Aqaba open. British warships in the Mediterranean were put on a standby alert.

Israel has said an Egyptian blockade of the gulf, its only shipping route to the Red Sea and Indian Ocean, would mean a fight.

In Cairo, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant began his peace mission by conferring with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mhamoud Riad. Thant was expected to see President Gamal Abdel Nasser tonight.

Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, flew toward New York, where the U.N. Security Council was called into urgent session. Israeli sources said Eban would ask U.S. officials to clarify American intentions in the crisis.

President Johnson said Tuesday the Gulf of Aqaba should be open to ships of all nations and declared Egypt's threatened blockade illegal.

The Soviet government warned that it would back Arab nations in the event of aggression in the Middle East.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown discussed the crisis in Moscow with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. In a speech later, Brown appealed for Soviet help in getting the Security Council to discuss the crisis and in efforts to re-establish a U.N. presence in the Middle East.

At Nasser's request, Thant pulled out the 3,400-man U.N. Emergency Force last week from positions on the Egyptian-Israeli border and along the Gulf of Aqaba where it had kept the peace after the Suez war.

Cairo's semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said blockade operations were begun Tuesday on Nasser's orders. It said mines have been placed in the gulf and Egyptian planes and torpedo boats are patrolling the Red Sea at the mouth of the gulf.

"War with Israel might break out any moment," the paper trumpeted in banner headlines above a four-column picture of a big coastal gun it said was trained on the narrow Strait of Tiran, entrance to the gulf.

Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol renewed his government's pledge to defend the right of Israeli shipping to use the Jewish nation's water route to East Africa and the Far East. He told Parliament "a fateful hour, not only for Israel, but for the whole world," is at hand.

Maariv, Israel's largest evening paper, said Nasser's threat to close the Strait of Tiran amounted to a declaration of war.

President Johnson made the U.S. position plain in a statement declaring American support for free passage through the Gulf of Aqaba.

Johnson said Egypt's threat to halt all Israeli ships and ships of any other nations carrying strategic cargo was "illegal and potentially disastrous to the cause of peace."

The President said the United States had urged U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, who arrived in Cairo Tuesday in quest of peace, to give the Gulf of Aqaba issue "the highest priority in his discussions" with Egyptian officials.

Two hours before Johnson spoke, the Soviet government lined up with the Arab states in a statement warning that "aggression" in the Middle East "would encounter not only the united strength of the Arab countries, but also resolute resistance on the part of the Soviet Union."

The latest confrontation developed after Israel threatened military reprisal for Arab commando raids from Syria. Syria and Egypt massed their forces on Israel's borders and Israel deployed its troops in response.

Informants in Cairo said more than 100,000 Egyptian troops are mobilized in the Sinai Desert, on Israel's southwest frontier, where the 3,400-man U.N. peace force had patrolled until Thant pulled it out at Nasser's demand.

Some diplomats at the United Nations believed the Soviet Union might try to block council action.

U.S. Planes End Truce, Bomb North Viet Targets

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes ended a 24-hour truce for Buddha's birthday today with raids on vital targets from north of the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi eastward to the Red River delta.

Aground, two U.S. companies of the 4th Infantry Division came under heavy mortar and rocket attack in the central highlands near the Cambodian border. Five men were killed and 14 wounded.

The action came west of the base at Pleiku in an area where U.S. forces believe North Vietnamese regulars may launch a big drive. The attacking enemy force, estimated at a battalion, broke off the action after making several ground assaults.

The bombing resumed shortly after the truce ended at midnight Tuesday and by dawn U.S. jets were over North Vietnam in strength. Among the targets was the often-hit rail yard at Thai Nguyen, 37 miles north of the Red capital of Hanoi.

The rail yard serves a vital power plant and North Vietnam's steel mill and is at the northern point of Red defenses anchored on Hanoi and Haiphong.

Other targets were hit in the Red River delta, a spokesman said, and the supply line stretching south toward the border with South Vietnam was also raked by Air Force and Navy jets.

U.S. headquarters said an unusual number of reconnaissance missions were flown over North Vietnam during the truce period but "no significant sightings were reported."

A spokesman said this meant that Communist supplies were moving south as usual on North Vietnam's roads.

During previous holiday truces of two to four days, the U.S. Command charged the North Vietnamese with marked increases in the volume of war supplies they moved southward. But the U.S. spokesman said the 24-hour letup in the bombing "did not provide the time frame in which to move large quantities of material."

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands charged the Communist forces with widespread violations of the truce in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command reported 73 "incidents" during the ceasefire period with 12 Americans killed and 57 wounded. The South Vietnamese Command reported an additional 19 incidents with four civilians and soldiers killed and 60 civilians and soldiers wounded an overall total of 92 incidents resulting in 16 allied dead and 117 wounded.

In Middle East Crisis

U.S., Reds Take Different Sides

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have lined up on opposite sides of the Israeli-Arab crisis, but U. S. leaders hope rapid diplomatic action will avert a great power confrontation in the Middle East.

President Johnson made the U. S. stand clear in a statement Tuesday in which he declared American support for Israel's demand of free passage for its ships through the Gulf of Aqaba, threatened with blockade by Egypt.

The President spoke about two hours after learning the Soviet government had accused Israel of past "aggression" against the Arabs and had declared any new aggression would be opposed by "the Soviet Union and all peace loving states."

Johnson called strongly for the United Nations action to bring the situation under control.

Authorities here noted the Soviet statement also said "the maintenance of peace and security in the area directly adjacent to the Soviet borders meets the vital interest of the Soviet peoples."

Shortly after Johnson's statement, the U.N. Security Council was summoned to a meeting late this morning. This country had backed such a meeting, and Senate supporters and critics of Johnson's Vietnam policies unified in proposing Security Council action to avert a Middle East war.

Johnson sharply criticized the recent action of U.N. Secretary-General U Thant — though he did not name U Thant — in removing the U.N. Emergency force from Egyptian-Israeli border areas.

"We are dismayed," he said, "at the hurried withdrawal of the United Nations' Emergency Force from Gaza and Sinai after more than 10 years of steadfast and effective service in keeping the peace, without action by either the General Assembly or the Security Council.

Three Hunted In $630,000 Brink's Theft

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Police are seeking three whisky-drinking bandits, one called "Eddie," who robbed a Brink's Inc. armored truck of $630,000 in cash.

The three masked men, armed with machine guns, waited early Tuesday inside the closed East Side branch of the First County National Bank, then confronted a truck guard and a bank official when they entered.

Potato chip and sandwich bags littered the floor of the bank, indicating the trio had waited for several hours, possibly overnight.

Also left behind was an empty whisky bottle.

After the trio confronted the bank official and guard, one donned the guard's hat and jacket to surprise the guard in the truck.

$4.9 Billion Budget Waits Vote In House

Later Supplemental Bill Assured For More School Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The administration's $4.9 billion, two year appropriations measure came up for passage in the Ohio House today with assurances a later supplemental bill will provide additional funds for education.

Majority Republicans had the votes but Democrats were lined up with floor amendments that would elevate proposed state spending for welfare and possibly other programs in the 1967-69 biennium.

Democrats said one of their amendments would cancel a plan under which counties would be required to share with the state the cost of increasing Aid to Dependent Children payments. They want the state to pick up the entire tab.

As proposed in the budget, the state would provide $35 million as its share of the increase expected to cost $70 million over the two-year period. Counties would have to come up with the same amount to cover the hike from about 78 per cent of recommended standards to 100 per cent.

The big budget bill, worked over by the House Finance Committee at hearings that lasted seven weeks, still must go to the Senate. It is needed by the start of the next fiscal year July 1 when current appropriations run out.

Included in the measure are an estimated $706 million for primary and secondary education and $253 million for higher education. Administration spokesmen said earlier they would seek to bolster these totals by $160 million and $60 million, respectively, in a separate appropriations bill after a search for more revenue, possibly from tax increases.

The Senate passed a half dozen bills and sent them to the House during a lively floor session Tuesday.

U.N. Emergency Session

Security Council Sifts War Threat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was called into emergency session today to consider the threat of war between the Arabs and Israel. Some diplomats at U.N. headquarters believed the Russians might try to stall off action.

Diplomats suggested that Soviet delegate Nikolai J. Fedorenko might challenge the right of Nationalist Chinese delegate Liu Chieh, the council president for May, to preside at the meeting on the ground that Communist China is entitled to the Chinese seat on the 15-nation council.

These same sources also suggested that the Soviet Union, which is backing the Arabs in the current crisis as it always has, might oppose putting the Middle Eastern situation on the agenda.

In the background was the perennial threat of a Soviet veto to block any council action opposed by the Arabs.

Liu called the council meeting at the request of Canada and Denmark, whose delegates in a joint letter cited "the extremely grave situation in the Middle East, which is threatening international peace and security."

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told the Canadian House of Commons that his government is seeking some form of U.N. intervention to replace the U.N. Middle East force now being withdrawn from the Egyptian-Israeli border area on the demand of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Pearson said Canada is suggesting expansion of the U.N. Truce Supervisory Organization in Jerusalem and the shifting of some of its personnel to the Egyptian-Israeli border. Canada's Foreign Minister Paul Martin said he had suggested to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that the U.N. Middle East force be reconstituted in some form.

Meanwhile, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban left Jerusalem on a sudden trip to Washington and New York. Foreign Ministry officials said he probably would take part in the Security Council debate, at least in its early stage.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg urged the council to give "speedy support" to Thant's mission to Cairo for talks with Nasser.

The U. S. delegate said the council should ask its members to take "every possible step to avert the possibility of an armed conflict." He also urged the council to ensure "that no member of the U.N. should take any action which would imperil the success of the secretary-general's mission."

In their request for a special meeting, the Danish and Canadian delegates cited Thant's weekend report to the council that he was withdrawing the U.N. Middle East force at Egypt's mandatory request and that he considered the resultant situation "more menacing than at any time" since the 1956 Suez war.

LBJ, Backers, Critics In Rare Unity

Action By U.N. Proposed To Avert War In Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional supporters and critics of President Johnson's Asian policies have forged rare unity in proposing United Nations action to avert war in the Middle East.

Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., proposed establishing a U.N. naval force to keep open the ship lanes to Israel that Egypt has threatened to blockade in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., like the Kennedys a critic of Johnson's Vietnam policies, plugged for a U.N. Security Council debate on the Middle East. He said it could lead to some opening by which the council might take jurisdiction in efforts to get Vietnam peace talks.

In the House, Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Johnson should "take immediate steps to re-establish a United Nations presence in this supercharged situation and to restrain all parties from any premature action that could kindle a conflagration, whether small or large."

The U.N. Security Council was to meet today.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., released a statement he said carried the signatures of 96 House members calling on firm and vigorous U.S. action to prevent a Middle East war.

The statement said the Soviet Union is arming Egypt and Syria and "appears to be testing American resolve to defend the peace."

'Toll Road'

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today made a "toll road" of the new section of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway that is not open to traffic because it still is under construction.

He imposed a fine of $10 and $7.50 costs on James Wendell Rhodes, 26, of 825 Mason St., who pleaded guilty to a Highway Patrol charge of operating a motor vehicle on a closed highway.

The patrol reported Rhodes was arrested May 5 at 11 p. m. while driving east in the westbound lane of the new highway in the vicinity of Substation. Rhodes said he had driven onto the new highway near the junction of Routes 7 and 30, where it was barricaded, the patrol said.

U.S. Major, Son Granted Cuba Asylum

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The Cuban government announced today it has granted asylum to U.S. Army Maj. Richard Harwood Pearce, a Vietnam war hero cleared for top secret material, and his 4½-year-old son.

The Communist party newspaper Granma published a note over Pearce's signature that said he left the United States "for reasons of conscience."

Pearce, 36, a senior aide to Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Dunn, 4th Army commander at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., became the object of an air search after he took off from Key West, Fla., Sunday.

The Cuban government said Pearce and his son, Richard Jr., in a light Cessna plane Pearce bought a week ago, landed at Liberty Airport on the outskirts of Havana Sunday.

The note published by Granma was dated Tuesday and quoted Pearce as saying, "I have decided to part from my country in the company of my 4½-year-old son, for reasons of conscience, and request of Cuban authorities to grant us asylum or authorization to proceed to another country of my choice."

Pearce's request was granted, the announcement said. It did not give his present whereabouts.

Liu called the council meeting at the request of Canada and Denmark, whose delegates in a joint letter cited "the extremely grave situation in the Middle East, which is threatening international peace and security."

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told the Canadian House of Commons that his government is seeking some form of U.N. intervention to replace the U.N. Middle East force now being withdrawn from the Egyptian-Israeli border area on the demand of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Pearson said Canada is suggesting expansion of the U.N. Truce Supervisory Organization in Jerusalem and the shifting of some of its personnel to the Egyptian-Israeli border. Canada's Foreign Minister Paul Martin said he had suggested to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that the U.N. Middle East force be reconstituted in some form.

Meanwhile, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban left Jerusalem on a sudden trip to Washington and New York. Foreign Ministry officials said he probably would take part in the Security Council debate, at least in its early stage.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg urged the council to give "speedy support" to Thant's mission to Cairo for talks with Nasser.

The U. S. delegate said the council should ask its members to take "every possible step to avert the possibility of an armed conflict." He also urged the council to ensure "that no member of the U.N. should take any action which would imperil the success of the secretary-general's mission."

In their request for a special meeting, the Danish and Canadian delegates cited Thant's weekend report to the council that he was withdrawing the U.N. Middle East force at Egypt's mandatory request and that he considered the resultant situation "more menacing than at any time" since the 1956 Suez war.

LBJ, Backers, Critics In Rare Unity

Action By U.N. Proposed To Avert War In Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional supporters and critics of President Johnson's Asian policies have forged rare unity in proposing United Nations action to avert war in the Middle East.

Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., proposed establishing a U.N. naval force to keep open the ship lanes to Israel that Egypt has threatened to blockade in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., like the Kennedys a critic of Johnson's Vietnam policies, plugged for a U.N. Security Council debate on the Middle East. He said it could lead to some opening by which the council might take jurisdiction in efforts to get Vietnam peace talks.

In the House, Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Johnson should "take immediate steps to re-establish a United Nations presence in this supercharged situation and to restrain all parties from any premature action that could kindle a conflagration, whether small or large."

The U.N. Security Council was to meet today.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., released a statement he said carried the signatures of 96 House members calling on firm and vigorous U.S. action to prevent a Middle East war.

The statement said the Soviet Union is arming Egypt and Syria and "appears to be testing American resolve to defend the peace."

'Toll Road'

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today made a "toll road" of the new section of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway that is not open to traffic because it still is under construction.

He imposed a fine of $10 and $7.50 costs on James Wendell Rhodes, 26, of 825 Mason St., who pleaded guilty to a Highway Patrol charge of operating a motor vehicle on a closed highway.

The patrol reported Rhodes was arrested May 5 at 11 p. m. while driving east in the westbound lane of the new highway in the vicinity of Substation. Rhodes said he had driven onto the new highway near the junction of Routes 7 and 30, where it was barricaded, the patrol said.

U.S. Major, Son Granted Cuba Asylum

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The Cuban government announced today it has granted asylum to U.S. Army Maj. Richard Harwood Pearce, a Vietnam war hero cleared for top secret material, and his 4½-year-old son.

The Communist party newspaper Granma published a note over Pearce's signature that said he left the United States "for reasons of conscience."

Pearce, 36, a senior aide to Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Dunn, 4th Army commander at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., became the object of an air search after he took off from Key West, Fla., Sunday.

The Cuban government said Pearce and his son, Richard Jr., in a light Cessna plane Pearce bought a week ago, landed at Liberty Airport on the outskirts of Havana Sunday.

The note published by Granma was dated Tuesday and quoted Pearce as saying, "I have decided to part from my country in the company of my 4½-year-old son, for reasons of conscience, and request of Cuban authorities to grant us asylum or authorization to proceed to another country of my choice."

Pearce's request was granted, the announcement said. It did not give his present whereabouts.

Boy, 4, Hospitalized After Auto Injuries

A 4-year-old Wellsville boy is in "guarded" condition today at City Hospital with a possible skull fracture suffered when he ran into the path of an auto at the intersection of Commerce and 14th Sts. Tuesday afternoon.

Dennis Taucher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Taucher of 413 14th St., was struck by a 1959 sedan operated by Hayward D. Tolley Jr., 20, of Toronto R.D. 2.

Police said skid marks caused by the car indicated the driver was operating the vehicle at about 20 miles an hour. Tolley told investigators that other children had been running across the street at the time the boy darted out without looking.

No charges have been filed against Tolley.

Myers, MacLean Back Levy Bills Sought By Wetzel

Supt. Lowell Myers of Wellsville and Daniel MacLean, a member of the Wellsville Board of Education, testified today at Columbus on behalf of two bills presented by State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon on school levies.

They testified before the House Taxation Committee this morning on House Bill 740, which would remove the 55 per cent requirement for passage of school levies at special elections.

Wetzel also has submitted House Bill 739, which would remove the limitation of one special election yearly on school levies.

Wellsville's school levy was defeated at the primary election. Following the defeat, the board contacted Wetzel relative to the lowering of the percentage of votes for passage.

The levy received a 52 per cent favorable vote, but 55 per cent is needed.

At a primary in even years only a simple majority is needed, but on odd years it is the 55 per cent.

Court May Fill Vacant Trustee Post In Madison

A renewed attempt to appoint a third Madison Township trustee failed at a meeting of the township trustees Monday night.

Appointment of the new trustee apparently will be referred to Columbiana County Common Pleas Court.

George Dunn suggested at last night's meeting the names of the 12 applicants for the post, from which Isaac Jones resigned, be placed in a hat and the choice be made by lot.

However, Frank Woodrow, the other trustee, indicated he preferred to have the appointment made by the court.

The applicants include Clifford Beohm, Charles Snyder, Ralph Cusick, Benny Sayre, Walter Roberts, Ralph Smith, Keith McKinney, Harry Lowers, George Crews, Carl Adney, Nellis Webber and Leslie Jones.

In other action, J. Trew Heakin, Standard Oil Co. representative, was awarded a contract for road oiling and providing gas and oil for township vehicles.

The trustees agreed to continue payment on auto radios obtained in a four-year program for police constables. The township currently does not have constables, but the payments on the radios will be maintained for at least three months.

Purchase of a new truck was discussed, but action was tabled. A complaint was received about new homes on Yeager Dr. reportedly without filter beds. the County Health Department will be asked to investigate.

Four new tires were purchased for the road grader.

Zoning, At Last

An effective zoning ordinance is now a part of East Liverpool's administrative and developmental pattern, a long needed tool for progress.

There is no use to waste conjecture on what East Liverpool would look like had zoning been utilized 50 years ago, nor whether the assignment of residential, commercial and industrial areas would have spurred greater economic growth than without it.

Certainly there would have been a more orderly arrangement of the business districts, better traffic flow and improved neighborhood districts, if only from the benefit of some preparatory thinking instead of haphazard growth.

The new zoning ordinance is the first major outcome of the city's "Master Plan," and is a basis for significant upgrading of the community, not just from serving as a planning fundamental, but as an inspiration of what can be done with planning.

With continued cooperation of the administration, Council and the Planning Commission, the "Master Plan" should reap further benefits for the residents and businesses of the city.

The interest of citizen groups in helping prepare the zoning ordinance and the concern of others in supporting the proposal in Council reveals a genuine and increasing willingness of the community to join in working for a "new look" for East Liverpool.

Now, the next steps are to adopt a housing code and building code and obtain a coordinator to implement these new programs, guide them and spur further effective use of planning.

With all the work which has been done on the plan and the new ordinances, we have still to put community progress on a full-time, professional level, competitive with other cities — which is a prime reason we invested in the "Master Plan" in the first place.

U Thant Acted Too Hastily

U. N. Secretary General U Thant's quick decision to withdraw the U. N. Emergency Force from the Middle East has incited a great deal of critical comment around the world.

U Thant yielded to pressure from President Gamal Abdel Nasser and other Egyptian officials to remove the peace-keeping forces from the Egyptian-Israeli border, where they have been stationed since 1956.

It is true that the U. N. troops are on Egyptian soil, and U Thant apparently took the position that a sovereign nation has the right to order foreign forces from its borders if it chooses to do so.

Egypt is making menacing gestures at Israel and obviously doesn't want any deterrent to invading its neighbor if the Israeli launch an attack against Syria.

The question is: Did U Thant act too hastily? We are inclined to believe he did. The secretary general is on a five-day trip to Cairo to discuss the Middle East crisis with Nasser and it is the position of critics of his move that he should have stalled for time until he could have brought enough pressure on the Egyptian president to influence him to back down.

Certainly if a peace-keeping force has any reason for being, its place at a time like this is athwart two hostile forces.

If U.N. troops are ordered to move out at the slightest threat of conflict there is little reason for their presence in the first place.

All of which points up the weakness of the U.N. in keeping war-bitten nations from each other's throat at the point of armed hostility in the potential battlefield.

Privacy In A Paradise

A Cleveland couple and their 3-year-old daughter are reaching for the ultimate in getting away from it all.

They are on their way to a one year's stay on a deserted island in the South Pacific.

After three weeks of orientation on the island of Tau off the east coast of Samoa, the family will be ready for its Robinson Crusoe experience.

The desire to sever all relations with the rest of the world is so deeply ingrained in the Richard Ault family, the only radio equipment they are taking is a transmitter in case of emergency.

There will be no receiver to smash the serenity of island paradise with rock and roll music, or news of world events.

We have our doubts that complete escape is possible in the Twentieth Century.

In about six months the Aults, all sun tanned and healthy, will spot a small plane flying over their island hideway. It will dip its wings in salute and disappear into the horizon.

The Aults will breathe a sigh of relief that their privacy was left intact.

The next day a helicopter will descend on the island's sandy beach and disgorge a reporter from one of America's major dailies, seeking an exclusive interview.

Two weeks after the article appears in newspapers across the nation, a cargo plane will invade the island and a steady flow of cameras, sound equipment and makeup men will inundate the premises as a television network launches a campaign to produce instant paradise for its viewers.

Just to make sure everybody gets a chance to share in the action, a Texas financier will outfit a base ship two miles off the island and run hourly tourist excursion boats around the Ault's sandy home.

Oh well, it started out to be a nice idea.

Peace Force?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Nothing better illustrates the gravity of the Middle East crisis than President Johnson's unprecedented attack on U Thant, secretary - general of the United Nations.

U Thant, not one of the strong men in that job, is a gentle Burmese whose prompt obedience to the demand of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has intensified the crisis and was the reason for Johnson's attack.

The two former secretaries — general — Trygve Lie of Norway and Dag Hammarskjold of Sweden — operated from strength, but U Thant, who succeeded the Swede in 1961, seems to rely mostly on indignation.

He has repeatedly been indignant, for instance, at the American role in Vietnam and he apparently had such a distaste for the mixed - up condition of the nations that when his term ended last year he wanted to retire.

But the U. N. members, including this country and the Soviet Union, voted to reappoint him. This was done probably more to keep peace in the United Nations than to keep U Thant. He was about the only one the United States and Moscow could agree on.

EVER SINCE the Israeli - Egyptian war of 1956, brief though it was, the United Nations has had a peacekeeping force on the Egyptian frontier. Israel wouldn't permit the U.N. troops inside its territory.

Nasser let them patrol the border — about 3,400 men from eight nations — so long as Israeli - Egyptian relations were fairly quiet. But when both sides began to mobilize for war Nasser demanded they be removed.

And U Thant quickly removed them. He did this on his own without approval by the U.N. General Assembly or the Security Council. The crisis got worse, even though U Thant flew to Egypt Tuesday to try to calm down Nasser.

Johnson didn't mention U Thant by name Tuesday night when he read a statement on the Middle East to White House newsmen. But he didn't have to when he said: "We are dismayed at the hurried withdrawal of the United Nations Emergency Force from Gaza and Sinai after more than 10 years of steadfast and effective service in keeping the peace, without action by either the General Assembly or the Security Council.

"We continue to regard the presence of the United Nations in the area as a matter of fundamental importance and shall support its continuance with all possible vigor."

U Thant was also criticized in Congress for the obvious reason: What's the sense of a peacekeeping force if it disappears as soon as the peace is disturbed?

As Congress pressed for U.N. intervention to prevent war, while U Thant was in Egypt, the Security Council was called into session today.

THE MANEUVERING so far has been too fuzzy to learn the real motivations but Nasser, even if it all turns out to be a phony front on his part to gain prestige among the Arabs, could hardly have picked a better time for him.

The United States, with its hands full trying to fight the war in Vietnam and opinion on that divided at home, is not in a position to plunge forcefully into a Middle East dispute except as a last resort.

Further — and it's not clear yet whether this was by prearrangement — Nasser quickly got the support of the Soviet Union. The whole thing may be a little trickier than it looks.

It would suit the Soviets fine if the United States, fearing it might get into two conflicts at the same time, suddenly decided to make concessions to North Vietnam to get peace there, at least.

Johnson hasn't flatly backed Israel, but he was critical of Egypt for its reported closing of the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's only outlet on the Red Sea. Nasser has long refused to let Israel use the Suez Canal.

Meanwhile, Johnson and Congress, which has been divided on Vietnam, both solidly call for U.N. intervention to prevent an Israeli-Egyptian war.

Seaweed

Seaweed may be just a nuisance to swimmers and boatman, but on land it's a welcome source of wealth and health.

Sea-bordered lands from Nova Scotia to Noway are raking up marine plants for processing into fertilizers, industrial chemicals, drugs, paints and a variety of food products.

In Canada, seaweed is a million-dollar industry that is expanding so fast scientists are studying how to cultivate it commercially to meet demand.

Seaweed, or marine algae, is among the most prolific of marine plants, the National Geographic Society says. There are at least 17,000 species, ranging from single-celled plankton to giant kelp whose fronds grow longer than the boles of the redwood trees of California.

Most seaweed flourishes in a mile-wide belt of water along ocean shores. The outer limit of the belt is determined by the depth of water which light can penetrate. Seaweed obtains nourishment not from roots but by absorbing food form surounding water. Some kelp will grow a foot a day under favorable conditions.

Odd Facts

"The Convention Capital of the World" is a term often applied to the city of Chicago, due to the fact that more conventions are held there than in any other city in the world.

An average untrained voice can sing 12 notes, which is the range of most popular songs. Well-trained voices can cover two octaves, or 16 notes. Some unusual voices, after much training, have been able to cover three octaves.

Reagan Faces Up To Labor

By Victor Riesel

SAN ANTONIO — The closer one gets to political insides in the West and Southwest, the more one hears that Lyndon Johnson will not run for President in '68—and that Ronald Reagan will.

Victor Riesel

The more one asks why, the more one is told the answer is not in the war on the Asian front, but in the labor wars, the wars in the big cities, and the coming war on the wide open spaces—on the citrus ranches, the fruit groves and the vast vegetable fields ranging from central California to western Florida.

Labor leaders in the 60 national headquarters in Washington and in their 25 home offices in New York may not realize it but they have given the rest of the country the jitters. And much of the nation is heaving the responsibility for these strike jitters right on Lyndon Johnson's aching and burdened shoulders. Everywhere they are saying it may be too much for him politically.

And in the West and Southwest the objective journeyman notes that the people—the public—talk glowingly of their man "in the white hat," Gov. Ronnie Reagan. They are concerned over Vietnam. But there's little they can do about it. However, they feel they can do something about airline strikes, rail strikes, threatened warehouse strikes, aerospace strikes, auto strikes and, to many of the men of influence, what is worse, the grape and melon and citrus strikes.

And they feel that Reagan will lead them out of this industrial and aagricultural wilderness. They follow Reagan's career so closely they can reel off any section of the governor's program. For the visitor from the Northeast they point to Reagan's labor program which has gone virtually unnoticed up yonder.

REAGAN IS PUSHING state legislation which would police the 2 million-member California labor movement. His weapon is the secret ballot. Strangely this has gone unnoticed outside of California—so much so it hasn't even been attacked east of the Great Divide.

Reagan's proposed laws call for a rank and file secret vote on virtually all union activities. He has said that out of his experience as a six-term president of the AFL-CIO Screen Actors Guild, this just what labor needs.

He would legislate so that the membership would have the right to vote secretly on whether the union should go in for political activity. If so, for which candidate? How much should be spent? How should the campaign go, etc., etc.

And the secret ballot would determine whether a union should initiate collective bargaining.

OR WHETHER it should strike. If so, should it picket?

Or, does the rank and file think certain expenditures—not in the ordinary course of union business—are proper?

And should the union start a pension and welfare fund? If so, how should it be administered? And if it is undesirable, should it be dissolved, and in what fashion?

There should be a secret ballot to determine rules of internal union discipline. This could deprivate financial ties of labor leaders. The gov- of the right to punish members or act against the opposition.

Reagan also has some hard thoughts on the private financial ties of labor leaders. The governor believes that union officers and agents shall not acquire any financial interests which interfere with the faithful performance of their responsibility to the labor organization. This is a tough section. The proposals would prevent labor leaders from acquiring assets "which tend" to interfere with their fiduciary relationship to the union.

AND THEN there is Reagan's attitude towards the hottest issue on labor's front burners—the coming farm labor organizing campaigns. The governor—and he is listened to as carefully here in Texas as in his home state—says he is for collective bargaining, and strikes and a living wage for all. But, says he, no farm union would be able to call "huelga" (strike) or in any fashion prevent the harvesting of crops. Well, if the pickers and sorters and packers can't strike when the product must be taken from the earth or it will rot, the right to strike means little.

This was dramatically voiced last week over in Rio Grande City, some 215 miles from here, by one of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, who said:

"We'll decide at what point we can hurt them (the melon and cantaloupe growers) the most and move at that point."

That was the union's vice president Gilbert Padilla. But for the millions in the West and Southwest, he reflected all the thunder coming out of the East. Rightly or wrongly, they blame Lyndon Johnson. It is a mood with which the nation should familiarize itself. It may make history.

Rockhounds

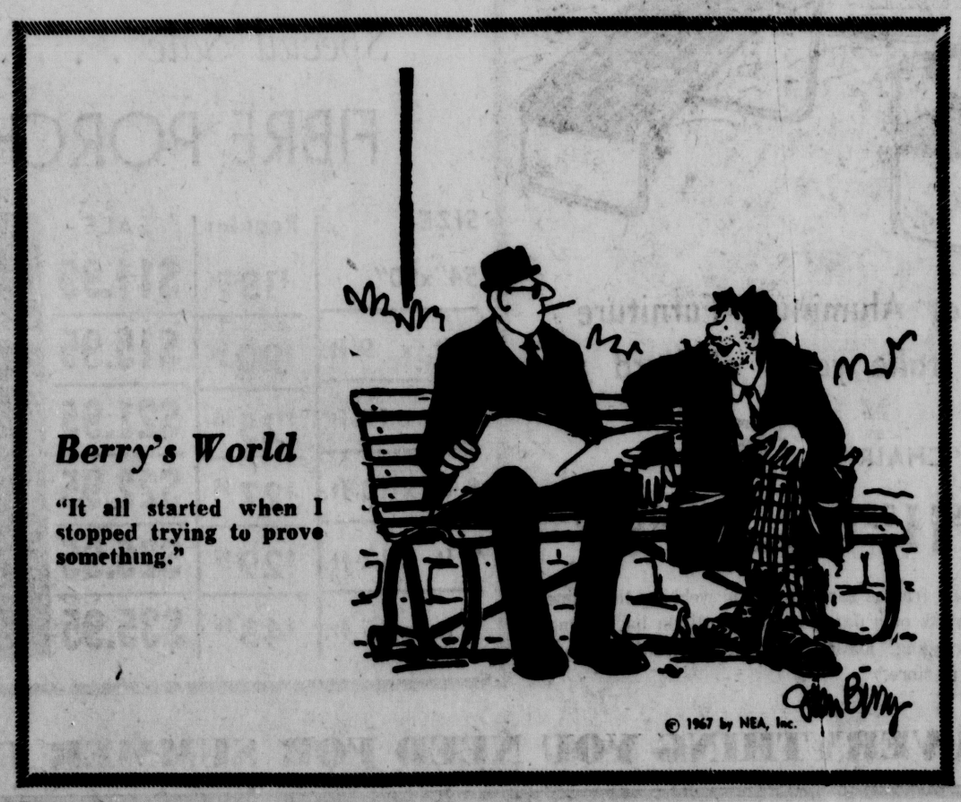
A new breed of hunter is prowling mountains and fields with chisel, pick and spade. His quarry: unusual rocks.

Rock collecting has grown so popular that some states publish special maps pinpointing good hunting areas. Hundreds of gem and mineral clubs flourish from Maine to Hawaii.

Rockhounds, despite the nickname, don't merely collect pretty rocks, the National Geographic Society says. Their real interest lies in the mineral content. Since there are some 2,500 different types of minerals, a diligent collector can hope to learn about all the common ones and many that are rare.

Prize specimens range from chunks of crude copper to sulphur crystals so delicate that the heat of a hand will crack them. Popular finds include mica, pyrite, calcite, and quartz.

Many rockhounds also collect fossilized bones, shark's teeth, shells and petrified wood.



Pressure Is On

By David Lawrence

Reds Menace U.S. Everywhere

The Soviet Union has stirred up a new crisis in an effort either to bluff the United States into getting out of Asia or to assert Communist supremacy in Europe by taking advantage of the disarray of the Western Allies.

Russia is responsible for the way the Egyptian government demanded that United Nations peace-keeping forces be withdrawn from the Middle East. The Moscow regime has been supplying arms in large quantities to both Syria and Egypt.

President Johnson has pinpointed the source of the new developments by asking the Soviet government to take the initiative in keeping a war from breaking out between Egypt and Israel.

If this fails, the administration is planning an appeal through te Security Council and later perhaps through the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Meanwhile, to annoy the West and cause more embarrassment, the Communist Chinese have started a movement in Hong Kong which threatens the continued possession of that crown colony by Great Britain.

Harassment of European countries by the Communists could become serious if the Soviets, exercising their growing influence over the Middle East, threaten to take control of the flow of its oil to Europe.

The Soviet Union and Red China moved in when France withdrew from North Africa as well as Indo-China. Communists imperialism didn't seem to be deterred by Western appeals for self-determination of peoples and an end to colonialism.

The Communist assumption is that the United States is so heavily enmeshed in the Vietnam War that it would hardly risk further action anywhere else to come to the aid of smaller countries threatened with Soviet or Red Chinese aggression.

Under such critical circumstances, what can the United States do?

The continuing presence of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean may be construed as a warning. But as long as dissension inside America over a possible halt of the bombing in Vietnam is considered a weakness, there is little likelihood Communist regimes will suddenly accept peace maneuvers and abandon their threats to take over through local Communist organizations wherever the West withdraws.

The United States has yet to face up to the fact Communist imperialism has not thus far been daunted by the show of American military strength in Vietnam.

Moscow also is assuming that no collective action to repel aggression will come from the United Nations.

In many aspects, the world crisis of today has more sinister aspects than any international development in the last decade.

America's intervention, either by diplomacy or military steps in Greece, in the Suez controversy, and in the Congo has been a preventive of a larger war.

The United Nations acted promptly in the Korean crisis in 1950. Except for the readiness of this country to take action then, all of Korea would now be in Communist hands. The Red Chinese, however, have been plotting recently to incite North Koreans to start trouble at the boundary with South Korea.

The Communist game seems to be to involve the United States in other areas, in the hope that America will get out of Vietnam soon and, shortly thereafter, from the Western Pacific, leaving the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, India, Thailand, Laos, Korea, Formosa and perhaps Japan to get along as best they can.

Can the United States now mobilize world opinion and influence the United Nations actively to intervene in the Middle East as well as in Vietnam with peace-keeping forces made up of the military services of member nations?

This looks like the only way to prevent a series of regional wars of large proportions, in which there is always the possibility "tactical" weapons of a nuclear variety will be introduced.

A crisis of the utmost gravity today confronts the world. The United States, as the leader of the free nations of the globe, cannot afford to yield to Communist pressure.

It would suit the Soviets fine if the United States, fearing it might get into two conflicts at the same time, suddenly decided to make concessions to North Vietnam to get peace there, at least.

Johnson hasn't flatly backed Israel, but he was critical of Egypt for its reported closing of the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's only outlet on the Red Sea. Nasser has long refused to let Israel use the Suez Canal.

Meanwhile, Johnson and Congress, which has been divided on Vietnam, both solidly call for U.N. intervention to prevent an Israeli-Egyptian war.

Seaweed

Seaweed may be just a nuisance to swimmers and boatman, but on land it's a welcome source of wealth and health.

Sea-bordered lands from Nova Scotia to Noway are raking up marine plants for processing into fertilizers, industrial chemicals, drugs, paints and a variety of food products.

In Canada, seaweed is a million-dollar industry that is expanding so fast scientists are studying how to cultivate it commercially to meet demand.

Seaweed, or marine algae, is among the most prolific of marine plants, the National Geographic Society says. There are at least 17,000 species, ranging from single-celled plankton to giant kelp whose fronds grow longer than the boles of the redwood trees of California.

Most seaweed flourishes in a mile-wide belt of water along ocean shores. The outer limit of the belt is determined by the depth of water which light can penetrate. Seaweed obtains nourishment not from roots but by absorbing food form surounding water. Some kelp will grow a foot a day under favorable conditions.

Odd Facts

"The Convention Capital of the World" is a term often applied to the city of Chicago, due to the fact that more conventions are held there than in any other city in the world.

An average untrained voice can sing 12 notes, which is the range of most popular songs. Well-trained voices can cover two octaves, or 16 notes. Some unusual voices, after much training, have been able to cover three octaves.

'Don't Stick Your Nose Into Our Business!'

Reagan Faces Up To Labor

By Victor Riesel

SAN ANTONIO — The closer one gets to political insides in the West and Southwest, the more one hears that Lyndon Johnson will not run for President in '68—and that Ronald Reagan will.

Victor Riesel

The more one asks why, the more one is told the answer is not in the war on the Asian front, but in the labor wars, the wars in the big cities, and the coming war on the wide open spaces—on the citrus ranches, the fruit groves and the vast vegetable fields ranging from central California to western Florida.

Labor leaders in the 60 national headquarters in Washington and in their 25 home offices in New York may not realize it but they have given the rest of the country the jitters. And much of the nation is heaving the responsibility for these strike jitters right on Lyndon Johnson's aching and burdened shoulders. Everywhere they are saying it may be too much for him politically.

And in the West and Southwest the objective journeyman notes that the people—the public—talk glowingly of their man "in the white hat," Gov. Ronnie Reagan. They are concerned over Vietnam. But there's little they can do about it. However, they feel they can do something about airline strikes, rail strikes, threatened warehouse strikes, aerospace strikes, auto strikes and, to many of the men of influence, what is worse, the grape and melon and citrus strikes.

And they feel that Reagan will lead them out of this industrial and aagricultural wilderness. They follow Reagan's career so closely they can reel off any section of the governor's program. For the visitor from the Northeast they point to Reagan's labor program which has gone virtually unnoticed up yonder.

REAGAN IS PUSHING state legislation which would police the 2 million-member California labor movement. His weapon is the secret ballot. Strangely this has gone unnoticed outside of California—so much so it hasn't even been attacked east of the Great Divide.

Reagan's proposed laws call for a rank and file secret vote on virtually all union activities. He has said that out of his experience as a six-term president of the AFL-CIO Screen Actors Guild, this just what labor needs.

He would legislate so that the membership would have the right to vote secretly on whether the union should go in for political activity. If so, for which candidate? How much should be spent? How should the campaign go, etc., etc.

And the secret ballot would determine whether a union should initiate collective bargaining.

OR WHETHER it should strike. If so, should it picket?

Or, does the rank and file think certain expenditures—not in the ordinary course of union business—are proper?

And should the union start a pension and welfare fund? If so, how should it be administered? And if it is undesirable, should it be dissolved, and in what fashion?

There should be a secret ballot to determine rules of internal union discipline. This could deprivate financial ties of labor leaders. The gov- of the right to punish members or act against the opposition.

Reagan also has some hard thoughts on the private financial ties of labor leaders. The governor believes that union officers and agents shall not acquire any financial interests which interfere with the faithful performance of their responsibility to the labor organization. This is a tough section. The proposals would prevent labor leaders from acquiring assets "which tend" to interfere with their fiduciary relationship to the union.

AND THEN there is Reagan's attitude towards the hottest issue on labor's front burners—the coming farm labor organizing campaigns. The governor—and he is listened to as carefully here in Texas as in his home state—says he is for collective bargaining, and strikes and a living wage for all. But, says he, no farm union would be able to call "huelga" (strike) or in any fashion prevent the harvesting of crops. Well, if the pickers and sorters and packers can't strike when the product must be taken from the earth or it will rot, the right to strike means little.

This was dramatically voiced last week over in Rio Grande City, some 215 miles from here, by one of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, who said:

"We'll decide at what point we can hurt them (the melon and cantaloupe growers) the most and move at that point."

That was the union's vice president Gilbert Padilla. But for the millions in the West and Southwest, he reflected all the thunder coming out of the East. Rightly or wrongly, they blame Lyndon Johnson. It is a mood with which the nation should familiarize itself. It may make history.

Rockhounds

A new breed of hunter is prowling mountains and fields with chisel, pick and spade. His quarry: unusual rocks.

Rock collecting has grown so popular that some states publish special maps pinpointing good hunting areas. Hundreds of gem and mineral clubs flourish from Maine to Hawaii.

Rockhounds, despite the nickname, don't merely collect pretty rocks, the National Geographic Society says. Their real interest lies in the mineral content. Since there are some 2,500 different types of minerals, a diligent collector can hope to learn about all the common ones and many that are rare.

Prize specimens range from chunks of crude copper to sulphur crystals so delicate that the heat of a hand will crack them. Popular finds include mica, pyrite, calcite, and quartz.

Many rockhounds also collect fossilized bones, shark's teeth, shells and petrified wood.

Pressure Is On

By David Lawrence

Reds Menace U.S. Everywhere

The Soviet Union has stirred up a new crisis in an effort either to bluff the United States into getting out of Asia or to assert Communist supremacy in Europe by taking advantage of the disarray of the Western Allies.

Russia is responsible for the way the Egyptian government demanded that United Nations peace-keeping forces be withdrawn from the Middle East. The Moscow regime has been supplying arms in large quantities to both Syria and Egypt.

President Johnson has pinpointed the source of the new developments by asking the Soviet government to take the initiative in keeping a war from breaking out between Egypt and Israel.

If this fails, the administration is planning an appeal through te Security Council and later perhaps through the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Meanwhile, to annoy the West and cause more embarrassment, the Communist Chinese have started a movement in Hong Kong which threatens the continued possession of that crown colony by Great Britain.

Harassment of European countries by the Communists could become serious if the Soviets, exercising their growing influence over the Middle East, threaten to take control of the flow of its oil to Europe.

The Soviet Union and Red China moved in when France withdrew from North Africa as well as Indo-China. Communists imperalism didn't seem to be deterred by Western appeals for self-determination of peoples and an end to colonialism.

The Communist assumption is that the United States is so heavily enmeshed in the Vietnam War that it would hardly risk further action anywhere else to come to the aid of smaller countries threatened with Soviet or Red Chinese aggression.

Under such critical circumstances, what can the United States do?

The continuing presence of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean may be construed as a warning. But as long as dissension inside America over a possible halt of the bombing in Vietnam is considered a weakness, there is little likelihood Communist regimes will suddenly accept peace maneuvers and abandon their threats to take over through local Communist organizations wherever the West withdraws.

The United States has yet to face up to the fact Communist imperialism has not thus far been daunted by the show of American military strength in Vietnam.

Moscow also is assuming that no collective action to repel aggression will come from the United Nations.

In many aspects, the world crisis of today has more sinister aspects than any international development in the last decade.

America's intervention, either by diplomacy or military steps in Greece, in the Suez controversy, and in the Congo has been a preventive of a larger war.

The United Nations acted promptly in the Korean crisis in 1950. Except for the readiness of this country to take action then, all of Korea would now be in Communist hands. The Red Chinese, however, have been plotting recently to incite North Koreans to start trouble at the boundary with South Korea.

The Communist game seems to be to involve the United States in other areas, in the hope that America will get out of Vietnam soon and, shortly thereafter, from the Western Pacific, leaving the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, India, Thailand, Laos, Korea, Formosa and perhaps Japan to get along as best they can.

Can the United States now mobilize world opinion and influence the United Nations actively to intervene in the Middle East as well as in Vietnam with peace-keeping forces made up of the military services of member nations?

This looks like the only way to prevent a series of regional wars of large proportions, in which there is always the possibility "tactical" weapons of a nuclear variety will be introduced.

A crisis of the utmost gravity today confronts the world. The United States, as the leader of the free nations of the globe, cannot afford to yield to Communist pressure.

Over Bill To Control Crowds

Newsman And Lawmaker Clash In Ohio's Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Representatives of Ohio newspapers called on the Ohio General Assembly Tuesday night to protest rights of the news media in a bill to control crowds at riots, fires and disaster scenes.

The request touched off a brief but stormy exchange between a newspaper spokesman and one lawmaker who asserted "these are some of the very people we are trying to deal with."

Rep. Charles E. Fry R-9 Clark, chairman of the House Government Operations Committee, gaveled proceedings to order at one point in the exchange between William Oertel, executive director of the Ohio Newspaper Association and Rep. Carl B. Stokes D44 Cleveland.

Fry's committee opened hearings on the measure by Rep. Corman A. Murdock R-70 Cincinnati which would make it illegal for anyone to impede or interfere with authorized personnel "engaged in the performance of their duties at riots, fires, disasters, or emergencies of any kind." Violators could be fined $50 to $500 and jailed 30 days to six months.

Murdock, who said he was acting at the request of news media representatives, asked approval of an amendment which would include reporters and photographers among "authorized personnel" whose duties could not legally be impeded.

But Murdock asked that the committee retain language that would make it illegal for any reason not to obey orders of police and other authorities acting in the line of duty.

No action was taken on either request.

Oertel told the committee that with the amendment authorizing newsmen to be at the scene officially, the bill is less objectionable to his association. "But we still have objections," he added.

The newspaper executive said the language requiring all persons to obey police orders is "dangerous because it is possible that some overzealous sheriff or policeman might apply this to deprive the public of its right to know."

'Showdown' Vote Set On Education Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether a tentative House amendment to the controversial school aid bill means stepping up, slowing down or maintaining the current school desegregation pace is anybody's guess.

Depending on which part of Tuesday's House debate they read, civil rights enforcement officials could find advice for all three courses of action.

The debate was a rousing preliminary to a showdown vote scheduled for late today on a Republican-backed proposal to transform the present federal aid to education program into one run largely by the states.

For several hours Tuesday the House teetered on the edge of total confusion as it dealt with an amendment that would require equal enforcement in all 50 states of any school desegregation guidelines.

The amendment was adopted by voice vote, subject to a later roll-call vote.

Its author, Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., said it would force the Office of Education to apply the civil rights law as Congress intended it. It now is concentrating only on the South, she said.

Everyone agreed that was a good idea, but then they wanted to know what effect it would have on school desegregation.

Violators could be fined $50 to $500 and jailed 30 days to six months.

Murdock, who said he was acting at the request of news media representatives, asked approval of an amendment which would include reporters and photographers among "authorized personnel" whose duties could not legally be impeded.

But Murdock asked that the committee retain language that would make it illegal for any reason not to obey orders of police and other authorities acting in the line of duty.

No action was taken on either request.

Oertel told the committee that with the amendment authorizing newsmen to be at the scene officially, the bill is less objectionable to his association. "But we still have objections," he added.

The newspaper executive said the language requiring all persons to obey police orders is "dangerous because it is possible that some overzealous sheriff or policeman might apply this to deprive the public of its right to know."

'Showdown' Vote Set On Education Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether a tentative House amendment to the controversial school aid bill means stepping up, slowing down or maintaining the current school desegregation pace is anybody's guess.

Depending on which part of Tuesday's House debate they read, civil rights enforcement officials could find advice for all three courses of action.

The debate was a rousing preliminary to a showdown vote scheduled for late today on a Republican-backed proposal to transform the present federal aid to education program into one run largely by the states.

For several hours Tuesday the House teetered on the edge of total confusion as it dealt with an amendment that would require equal enforcement in all 50 states of any school desegregation guidelines.

The amendment was adopted by voice vote, subject to a later roll-call vote.

Its author, Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., said it would force the Office of Education to apply the civil rights law as Congress intended it. It now is concentrating only on the South, she said.

Everyone agreed that was a good idea, but then they wanted to know what effect it would have on school desegregation.

Red Cross Sets Summer Swimming Course Plans

Dr. Stephen G. Sinclair and Don Eckert will serve as co-chairmen of the Water Safety Committee of the Area Red Cross Chapter, according to an announcement made today by J. Norman Nicely, chapter chairman.

The committee met Tuesday to plan for the summer swimming program which will start June 26 at the Thompson Park Pool.

The city of East Liverpool, Thompson Park Commision and the Area Red Cross Chapter cooperate in this community project.

Miss Barbara Rohrer will supervise the swimming program as a volunteer water safety instructor this year. She will attend a national aquatic school at Camp Muskingum, Leesville, June 14-24 for instructor training.

According to the co-chairmen, the schedule of classes will be changed this year to concentrate on "Water Proofing" — to have as many children as possible in "Learn to Swim" classes for the period from 10 to 11:15 a. m. each morning during the three week's session.

Courses for adults, advanced beginners, intermediates and swimmers will be held from 8:45 to 10 a. m. daily. At this time Junior and Senior lifesaving courses also will be given.

The co-chairmen explained the beginner swimming will be taught by the Station Method, which will permit a child who adapts readily to the water to progress as he is able to complete each swimming skill required.

Each child or adult wishing to participate in classes must have a card signed by a physician stating that he is permitted to take the physical exercise involved and each child's registration card must be signed by a parent. Registration cards may be picked up at the Area Red Cross Chapter office starting May 31. The cards must be signed and returned not later than June 12.

Swimming classes for adults will be held again this year on Wednesday evenings at Thompson Park, starting June 28.

DIVERTICULOSIS IS VERY COMMON

Very briefly, Diverticulosis is a condition where outpouchings, similar to the blisters caused by "stone bruises" on automobile tires, swell out along the intestines. Often they cause no bother. Many people have them with no problem.

Sometimes one or more of them becomes irritated and inflamed. An infection results which requires prompt medical attention. This is called Divirticulitis. Constant pain, often accompanied by nausea, vomiting, chills and fever are among symptoms. For any intestinal discomfort not promptly relieved a physician should be consulted. We can fill his prescriptions.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

THE PENNEY STORY

Bring your confidence to Penney's

By ROBERTA NASH

"We strive constantly to see that a customer does better day in and day out by buying Penney merchandise," said one of our vice presidents. "And that doesn't just mean better prices, it all has to start with better merchandise."

Later, I asked a man in Penney's huge New York Testing Center how we are sure what's best. "Often we're not sure," he said, "so we have to find out. That's what all these people and machines are for."

I looked around at the tests in progress and I felt very confident of Penney quality. You would have, too.

By ROBERTA NASH

"We strive constantly to see that a customer does better day in and day out by buying Penney merchandise," said one of our vice presidents. "And that doesn't just mean better prices, it all has to start with better merchandise."

Later, I asked a man in Penney's huge New York Testing Center how we are sure what's best. "Often we're not sure," he said, "so we have to find out. That's what all these people and machines are for."

I looked around at the tests in progress and I felt very confident of Penney quality. You would have, too.

Rocky Has Last Word After Belting 3-Run Homer In 10th

Outfielder Gives Tribe 4-1 Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Last week Rocky Colavito grimly listed half a dozen arguments for steady work in the Cleveland Indians' outfield.

Tuesday night, the sulking slugger changed his thinking and came up with the best argument of all—a three-run homer in the 10th inning that gave the Indians a 4-1 victory over Washington.

"I was thinking, 'Just let me get a base hit,' " the 33-year-old veteran said. "I had no idea of hitting a home run."

Colavito had other ideas—all negative—about sharing left field with Leon Wagner when he jotted down a statement of grievances last Monday and handed it to Cleveland newsmen.

"I'm tired of platooning and I waited a long time before saying anything," he wrote. "I'm not a trouble maker, never was and never will be, but I feel I must speak out now and say what's inside me."

He got his point across without a word against the Senators, slamming a shot into the left field seats off right-hander Bob Priddy in the 10th.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged Minnesota 5-4 and moved into first place, one-half game ahead of the Detroit Tigers, who bowed to Boston 5-2. Baltimore nipped New York 1-0 and California topped Kansas City 5-1.

Colavito, who played right field for the Indians—with Wagner in left—rapped a single in addition to his second homer, raising his batting mark to .272 in 21 games.

Cleveland starter Gary Bell, given a 1-0 lead when Larry Brown homered in the fifth, pitched 6 2-3 hitless innings and had a two-hit shutout until pinch hitter Cap Peterson slammed a one-out homer in the ninth.

Colavito snapped the deadlock after Priddy walked Chico Salmon and Chuck Hinton in the 10th.

Ron Hansen's three-run homer keyed a four-run rally in the sixth that lifted the White Sox past Minnesota, ending the Twins' winning string at four. Pete Ward also homered for the White Sox, who had lost three in a row, while Harmon Killebrew and Cesar Tovar connected for Minnesota.

Left-hander Dennis Bennett, with relief help from John Wyatt, checked the Tigers while Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and a bases-empty blast by Rico Petrocelli provided Boston's winning margin. Al Kaline's 10th homer knocked out Bennett in the eighth.

The Orioles shut out the Yankees for the second night in a row as Frank Bertaina and Ed-Watt collaborated on a four-hitter. Dave Johnson lashed a triple off Mel Stottlemyre in the second inning and scored the game's only run on a single by Andy Etchebarren.

California spotted the A's a 1-0 lead when Jack Sanford balked a run across in the second inning, then surged ahead in the sixth on Jim Fregosi's solo homer and Jimmie Hall's two-run wallop. Jay Johnstone stole home to climax a two-run insurance rally in the seventh.

7 Horses Die In Barn Fire At Arlington

CHICAGO (AP) — Seven thoroughbreds, including a daughter of famed Round Table, were killed Tuesday in a fire which destroyed a barn at the Arlington Park race track.

Damage esimates ranged from $40,000 to $50,000 as fire departments from three communities prevented the blaze from spreading by watering down other barns.

Brisk winds fanned the blaze as thousands of racing fans, arriving for the day's program, watched.

Among the horses killed was Round and Royal, a daughter of Round Table, owned by Mrs. William MacDonald of Hollywood, Fla. Two other horses owned by Mrs. MacDonald — Hill Empress and Double Too—also perished.

Meloncon Stable of New Orleans had 13 horses in the barn but all were among those cut loose and shooed to safety.

Astros Whip Pirates, 8-3; Drysdale Pitches Shutout

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now all Don Drysdale has to do is change his uniform number from 53 to 32.

Handed the role of stopper for the Los Angeles Dodgers virtually by default when Sandy Koufax retired, Drysdale is responding to the challenge as if he were a left-hander with an arthritic elbow.

Drysdale hurled his second straight shutout and lowered his earned run average to a Koufax-like 1.43 Tuesday night with a 7-0 victory over the New York Mets.

It was the best pitched game in the National League where San Francisco shaded Philadelphia 5-4 in 11 innings, Houston battered Pittsburgh 8-3 and Atlanta thumped St. Louis 9-6. Cincinnati's game at Chicago was rained out.

The Dodgers scored four runs on one hit in the first inning with Met starter Chuck Estrada contributing four walks and a wild pitch to the rally which was climaxed by Al Ferrara's bases-loaded double.

After that it was all Drysdale. The big right-hander allowed just five hits and retired 12 straight Mets over one stretch. It was his 39th career shutout, leaving him one short of the Dodgers' club record held by Koufax.

"I can't do any more than pitch once every four days," Drysdale said, "the same as I did when Sandy was with us. He's retired and that's accepted. I can only do my best out there."

It's been a different spring for Drysdale this season. He had a tough time getting started last year and finished with a disappointing 13-16 record. He's 4-3 now with three straight victories.

"I feel as though I've been throwing as good as ever," Drysdale said. The shutout gave him a string of 23 consecutive scoreless innings and he's allowed just three earned runs in the last 42 innings he's pitched.

The Giants beat the Phillies when Jesus Alou opened the 11th with a triple and rode home on Ollie Brown's sacrifice fly.

Brown's fourth home run and two throwing errors by Rich Allen had helped the Giants build a 4-2 lead but Don Lock's two-run single in the eighth following a single by Allen and a

Bo Rein Made Ineligible After Ticket Disclosure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robert (Bo) Rein, leading batter on Ohio State's Big Ten champion baseball team, has been declared ineligible for the remainder of the season, Athletic Director Richard C. Larkins announced Tuesday night.

The reason, Larkins said, was for "accepting money in excess of a grant-in-aid in the form of selling football tickets."

Rein, the regular shortstop, was hitting .358 for the Buckeyes, who enter NCAA District 4 playoffs Thursday at Southern Illinois in opening defense of their College World Series title.

Monday night at the team's appreciation banquet on campus, Rein was named co-captain with center fielder Ray Shoup.

During the banquet, Rein thanked Bob Ries, assistant athletic ticket director, for helping him get extra tickets during the football season.

Rein, a senior from Niles, was a regular halfback for the Ohio State football teams of the past three seasons.

Larkins investigated Rein's statement about the football tickets Tuesday and advised Bill Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten.

Reed made a telephone poll of all conference athletic directors. They agreed that Ohio State should be allowed to play in the NCAA district tournament but not with Rein in the lineup.

Rein did not say at the banquet that he had sold the tickets, according to persons present.

The number of tickets he received was not disclosed.

Rein was unavailable for comment.

Cincinnati Becomes 10th Team In Pro Grid League

NEW YORK (AP)--Cincinnati was awarded the tenth franchise in the American Football League today. The club will begin play with the start of the 1968 season.

Three different groups are seeking the ownership of the franchise, one of them headed by Paul Brown, onetime coach and general-manager of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

The league did not designate the owners of the franchise.

Although no price was set, it is estimated that the cost of stocking the team with players will approximate $8.5 million. Other clubs in the AFL will provide some of the players but the money will go the NFL as a part of the price paid for the merger of the two rival leagues a year ago.

Other teams in the AFL are New York, Boston, Buffalo, Kansas City, Miami, Houston, San Diego, Oakland and Denver.

The announcement was made just before the club owners of the two leagues began the second day of their annual spring meetings. They are meeting separately, but in the same hotel.

Nicklaus Calls National Open Course 'Real Test'

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — "Some of these holes look like they might have been hauled over from Britain — I like it," Jack Nicklaus said today after being reintroduced to the long and tough Baltusrol golf course.

It was love at second sight for golf's 27-year-old strong boy and the layout where he will try to win his second National Open June 16-19.

"I've always liked this course — I think it's wonderful, but it is a real test of golf," Nicklaus added.

Big Jack was only 14 when lame-armed Ed Furgol won here in 1954, but he played Baltusrol on a taped television show four years ago. He doesn't remember much about it.

"Phil Rodgers and I lost our match in the first round, I wasn't around long," Jack explained.

The 210-pound Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, took an exploratory tour of the 7,022-yard, par 70 course Tuesday in order to write a critique for a sports magazine.

Although he's been in the throes of a slump this spring, he appeared very loose and confident. He hit the ball like the Nicklaus who has won three Masters, setting the Augusta record in 1965.

"There's nothing wrong with my game that two hours' sleep and a new putting stroke wouldn't cure," Nicklaus said facetiously. "Seriously, I think my game is coming around okay."

Jack has won only one tournament title this year — the non-sanctioned Crosby. He failed to make the cut in the Masters, and his only other serious run at a victory was at New Orleans where he finished a stroke back of Canadian George Knudson. He is well down in the money list, headed by his old rival, Arnold Palmer.

In three days of local qualifying — it ends at San Francisco today — 476 amateurs and pros were weeded out to join 61 others, who were exempt from local competition, in sectional play June 5-6.

The sectionals will send 123 along with 27 who were exempt from all qualifying, to the Open.

Globetrotters Are Sold For Reported $3 Million

CHICAGO (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters were sold Tuesday for a reported $3 million to Metromedia, Inc., subject to approval of the Probate Court.

Sale of the clowns of basketball, who 40 years ago under the guidance of the late Abe Saperstein, rose from a road show into an international legend, remained in doubt.

Although Metromedia, which owns radio and television stations throughout the country in addition to the Ice Capades and direct mail companies, announced the purchase, there remained some question over completion of the transaction.

A rich Chicago syndicate described the Metromedia announcement as premature and a spokesman for the group said he retained confidence that his group's bid would be favored when the Probate Court settles the estate.

The noted Negro group which played at the old Savoy Ballroom in Chicago before going on tour with Saperstein eventually logged millions of air miles and played before kings, queens, popes, rajahs and commissars.

Not only did the Globetrotters thrill hundreds of thousands throughout the world, but they also managed to open doors previously closed to diplomats throughout the world.

This made Saperstein, who died in March of 1966, take pride in his teams which he claimed did more for world relations than most political negotiations.

Each year his teams played in 300 United States cities in addition to scores of countries. More than 60 million people have watched the Globetrotters perform.

double by Johnny Callison tied it.

Tony Taylor homered for Philadelphia.

Houston's Chuck Harrison drove in four runs with a pair of doubles and Larry Dierker won his fifth game as the Astros defeated Pittsburgh.

Dierker also had two hits and drove in a pair of runs with a double. He held the Pirates to six hits in the seven innings he worked.

The Astros bunched four hits and three walks for five runs off loser Billy O'Dell, 4-1, and Vern Law in the fifth inning with Harrison's second two-run double the key blow.

Clete Boyer stroked three straight hits, scoring one run and driving in two others for the Braves against the Cardinals.

Six singles — two of them swinging bunts by shortstop Marty Martinez and pitcher Jay Ritchie — helped Atlanta to a four-run fourth inning that opened up a 9-4 lead for the Braves.

Lou Brock slammed a two-run homer for the Cardinals and Gene Oliver connected with the bases empty for Atlanta.

Nicklaus Calls National Open Course 'Real Test'

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — "Some of these holes look like they might have been hauled over from Britain — I like it," Jack Nicklaus said today after being reintroduced to the long and tough Baltusrol golf course.

It was love at second sight for golf's 27-year-old strong boy and the layout where he will try to win his second National Open June 16-19.

"I've always liked this course — I think it's wonderful, but it is a real test of golf," Nicklaus added.

Big Jack was only 14 when lame-armed Ed Furgol won here in 1954, but he played Baltusrol on a taped television show four years ago. He doesn't remember much about it.

"Phil Rodgers and I lost our match in the first round, I wasn't around long," Jack explained.

The 210-pound Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, took an exploratory tour of the 7,022-yard, par 70 course Tuesday in order to write a critique for a sports magazine.

Although he's been in the throes of a slump this spring, he appeared very loose and confident. He hit the ball like the Nicklaus who has won three Masters, setting the Augusta record in 1965.

"There's nothing wrong with my game that two hours' sleep and a new putting stroke wouldn't cure," Nicklaus said facetiously. "Seriously, I think my game is coming around okay."

Jack has won only one tournament title this year — the non-sanctioned Crosby. He failed to make the cut in the Masters, and his only other serious run at a victory was at New Orleans where he finished a stroke back of Canadian George Knudson. He is well down in the money list, headed by his old rival, Arnold Palmer.

In three days of local qualifying — it ends at San Francisco today — 476 amateurs and pros were weeded out to join 61 others, who were exempt from local competition, in sectional play June 5-6.

The sectionals will send 123 along with 27 who were exempt from all qualifying, to the Open.

double by Johnny Callison tied it.

Tony Taylor homered for Philadelphia.

Houston's Chuck Harrison drove in four runs with a pair of doubles and Larry Dierker won his fifth game as the Astros defeated Pittsburgh.

Dierker also had two hits and drove in a pair of runs with a double. He held the Pirates to six hits in the seven innings he worked.

The Astros bunched four hits and three walks for five runs off loser Billy O'Dell, 4-1, and Vern Law in the fifth inning with Harrison's second two-run double the key blow.

Clete Boyer stroked three straight hits, scoring one run and driving in two others for the Braves against the Cardinals.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The New Orleans Buccaneers of the New American Basketball Association announced signing of another National Basketball Association player Tuesday night—Cincinnati's Bobby Love.

IL Pitcher Hurls Second No-Hit Game

By The Associated Press

Dave Vineyard of the Toronto Maple Leafs has become only the third pitcher in the history of the International League to pitch two nine - inning no-hit games and win both.

The 26-year-old right -hander stopped his former Rochester teammates without a hit Tuesday night in pitching the Leafs to a 2-1 triumph. While hurling for the Red Wings last July 28, Vineyard threw a no-hitter at the Toledo Mud Hens for a 1-0 victory.

Buffalo's Bisons regained second place Tuesday night by beating Syracuse twice, 1-0 and 4-2, and Richmond defeated Columbus 8-5 and climbed over the Jets into fourth place. Jacksonville at Toledo was postponed, cold weather.

Vineyard walked six and struck out nine Tuesday night, and one of the walks led to the Rochester run, unearned.

IL Pitcher Hurls Second No-Hit Game

By The Associated Press

Dave Vineyard of the Toronto Maple Leafs has become only the third pitcher in the history of the International League to pitch two nine - inning no-hit games and win both.

The 26-year-old right -hander stopped his former Rochester teammates without a hit Tuesday night in pitching the Leafs to a 2-1 triumph. While hurling for the Red Wings last July 28, Vineyard threw a no-hitter at the Toledo Mud Hens for a 1-0 victory.

Buffalo's Bisons regained second place Tuesday night by beating Syracuse twice, 1-0 and 4-2, and Richmond defeated Columbus 8-5 and climbed over the Jets into fourth place. Jacksonville at Toledo was postponed, cold weather.

Vineyard walked six and struck out nine Tuesday night, and one of the walks led to the Rochester run, unearned.

Candidates' Expense Report Deadline To Fall June 16

The County Election Board today reminded candidates who sought party nominations at the May 2 primaries that an itemized report of receipts and expenditures must be filed with the board not later than June 16 at 4 p. m.

Similar reports are required from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue. Candidates must file the sworn statements whether or not they were successful, Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, emphasized.

The reports have been filed in recent days by six East Liverpool candidates and three Wellsville aspirants.

Mayor George E. Willshaw, Republican, nominated for a second full term, reported he spent $98.21. Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, chairman of the Willshaw for Mayor Committee, reported it spent $149.60.

John W. Paul, Willshaw's opponent for the Republican nomination, reported expenses of $269.06.

Treasurer Bert A. Dawson and Councilman Harold Maylone, who both won renomination on the Republican ticket, said they had no expenses.

Victor Lee Smith, unsuccessful Republican candidate for councilman - at - large, reported expenditures of $7.50. Caesar A. Peters, an unsuccessful Democratic aspirant for the same post, said he spent $50.50.

All of the Wellsville candidates reported no expenses. They are William Bush, nominee for solicitor; James Phillips, candidate for a ward Council post, and John E. Call, council-at-large candidate.

The statements are required under the so-called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. All candidates for municipal, township and school board offices come under a provision allowing expenditure of $500 if the total vote cast for governor in the last preceding state election in the territory was 5,000 or less, plus $5 for 100 votes cast in excess of 5,000.

Candidates who fail to file the reports by the deadline automatically are disqualified from seeking office for a minimum of five years.

Ohio Contractors' Director Sees Extended Road Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The executive director of the Ohio Contractors Association says he feels the three - week - old strike by the operating Engineers Union that has shut down most highway construction in the state will continue "for an extended period."

Karl L. Rothermund Jr. spoke Tuesday night in the wake of a reportedly unanimous rejection by the union of the contractors' latest and "definitely their best" contract proposal.

Rothermund said the next move is up to the engineers. "We'll wait for a union proposal," he said.

The association's offer," he said, amounted to as much as $1.70 per hour pay raises over a period of 42 months.

With overtime during the height of the construction season the offer would mean a pay raise of $85 to $90 a week, he said.

The union is demanding $2.-30 an hour in steps by 1969.

Engineers who operate heavy equipment on the highway and other construction projects struck against association-member contractors May 3, two days after the old contract expired. It provided average hourly pay of $4.60.

The walkout by the 12,000 - member union has tied up an estimated $700 million in highway projects. Some 25,000 men employed by 250 contractors are out of work, the association contends.

Earlier Tuesday, the contractors' negotiating team expressed disappointment over the reported manner in which its proposal for ending the strike was presented to union members for consideration.

"It is understood a secret vote was not permitted and that all operators in the union were not informed of the contractors' offer," the committee said.

Union members in Columbus said rejection came on a voice vote.

Hailstorms cost from $150 to $208 million in crops in the United States annually, and cause at least $25 million property damage.

W. Va. Steps Up Enforcement On Liquor, Gaming

CHARLESTON (AP) — Stepped up enforcement of West Virginia's liquor and gambling laws was announced Tuesday by State Police Supt. W. E. Burchett.

The enforcement program comes at the end of a 30-day period agreed upon by Gov. Hulett Smith and Burchett to allow establishments to comply with the new private club liquor law.

A member of the Alcohol Beverage Control Commission described the enforcement activity as an effort to make illegal liquor outlets "get right with the law."

The new private club liquor law allows establishment of private clubs under three categories — fraternal and veterans organizations, profit and nonprofit. All others are illegal under state law.

Car Demolished, Driver Hurt At Taylor's Bend

A Wellsville resident's car was demolished and he was injured slightly this morning when his vehicle ran out of control on Route 30 at Taylor's Bend, the intersection of the Johnsonville Rd.

William J. Buck, 31, 953 Main St. was treated and released at City Hospital following the accident at 7:22 a.m. He suffered a laceration of the right eyebrow.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies charged Buck with failure to have his vehicle under control and driving with an expired operator's license. He is scheduled to appear Saturday at 10 a.m. before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

Buck lost control of his 1963 sedan as he rounded the sharp curve, went off the roadway and struck an embankment.

Cuzco, Peru, is the oldest continually inhabited city in all the Americas, dating back to about the time the Battle of Hastings was fought.

Mishap On Broadway Damages 2 City Autos

Cars driven by two East Liverpool men were damaged in a collision Tuesday on Broadway 15 feet south of E. 4th St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1959 sedan driven by Ezra D. Crabtree, 43, of 230 E. Center Ln. and a 1962 sedan operated by James R. Cullifer, 42, of R.D. 2, officers said. There was damage to the left front fender of Cullifer's car and the right tail light of Crabtree's auto.

Crabtree said he was turning left into a parking lot, but halted to allow another driver to pull off the lot. Cullifer reported Crabtree's car drifted backward and hit his auto.

Candidates' Expense Report Deadline To Fall June 16

The County Election Board today reminded candidates who sought party nominations at the May 2 primaries that an itemized report of receipts and expenditures must be filed with the board not later than June 16 at 4 p. m.

Similar reports are required from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue. Candidates must file the sworn statements whether or not they were successful, Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, emphasized.

The reports have been filed in recent days by six East Liverpool candidates and three Wellsville aspirants.

Mayor George E. Willshaw, Republican, nominated for a second full term, reported he spent $98.21. Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, chairman of the Willshaw for Mayor Committee, reported it spent $149.60.

John W. Paul, Willshaw's opponent for the Republican nomination, reported expenses of $269.06.

Treasurer Bert A. Dawson and Councilman Harold Maylone, who both won renomination on the Republican ticket, said they had no expenses.

Victor Lee Smith, unsuccessful Republican candidate for councilman - at - large, reported expenditures of $7.50. Caesar A. Peters, an unsuccessful Democratic aspirant for the same post, said he spent $50.50.

All of the Wellsville candidates reported no expenses. They are William Bush, nominee for solicitor; James Phillips, candidate for a ward Council post, and John E. Call, council-at-large candidate.

The statements are required under the so-called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. All candidates for municipal, township and school board offices come under a provision allowing expenditure of $500 if the total vote cast for governor in the last preceding state election in the territory was 5,000 or less, plus $5 for 100 votes cast in excess of 5,000.

Candidates who fail to file the reports by the deadline automatically are disqualified from seeking office for a minimum of five years.

Ohio Contractors' Director Sees Extended Road Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The executive director of the Ohio Contractors Association says he feels the three - week - old strike by the operating Engineers Union that has shut down most highway construction in the state will continue "for an extended period."

Karl L. Rothermund Jr. spoke Tuesday night in the wake of a reportedly unanimous rejection by the union of the contractors' latest and "definitely their best" contract proposal.

Rothermund said the next move is up to the engineers. "We'll wait for a union proposal," he said.

The association's offer," he said, amounted to as much as $1.70 per hour pay raises over a period of 42 months.

With overtime during the height of the construction season the offer would mean a pay raise of $85 to $90 a week, he said.

The union is demanding $2.30 an hour in steps by 1969.

Engineers who operate heavy equipment on the highway and other construction projects struck against association-member contractors May 3, two days after the old contract expired. It provided average hourly pay of $4.60.

The walkout by the 12,000 - member union has tied up an estimated $700 million in highway projects. Some 25,000 men employed by 250 contractors are out of work, the association contends.

Earlier Tuesday, the contractors' negotiating team expressed disappointment over the reported manner in which its proposal for ending the strike was presented to union members for consideration.

"It is understood a secret vote was not permitted and that all operators in the union were not informed of the contractors' offer," the committee said.

Union members in Columbus said rejection came on a voice vote.

Hailstorms cost from $150 to $208 million in crops in the United States annually, and cause at least $25 million property damage.

W. Va. Steps Up Enforcement On Liquor, Gaming

CHARLESTON (AP) — Stepped up enforcement of West Virginia's liquor and gambling laws was announced Tuesday by State Police Supt. W. E. Burchett.

The enforcement program comes at the end of a 30-day period agreed upon by Gov. Hulett Smith and Burchett to allow establishments to comply with the new private club liquor law.

A member of the Alcohol Beverage Control Commission described the enforcement activity as an effort to make illegal liquor outlets "get right with the law."

The new private club liquor law allows establishment of private clubs under three categories — fraternal and veterans organizations, profit and nonprofit. All others are illegal under state law.

Car Demolished, Driver Hurt At Taylor's Bend

A Wellsville resident's car was demolished and he was injured slightly this morning when his vehicle ran out of control on Route 30 at Taylor's Bend, the intersection of the Johnsonville Rd.

William J. Buck, 31, 953 Main St. was treated and released at City Hospital following the accident at 7:22 a.m. He suffered a laceration of the right eyebrow.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies charged Buck with failure to have his vehicle under control and driving with an expired operator's license. He is scheduled to appear Saturday at 10 a.m. before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

Buck lost control of his 1963 sedan as he rounded the sharp curve, went off the roadway and struck an embankment.

Mishap On Broadway Damages 2 City Autos

Cars driven by two East Liverpool men were damaged in a collision Tuesday on Broadway 15 feet south of E. 4th St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1959 sedan driven by Ezra D. Crabtree, 43, of 230 E. Center Ln. and a 1962 sedan operated by James R. Cullifer, 42, of R.D. 2, officers said. There was damage to the left front fender of Cullifer's car and the right tail light of Crabtree's auto.

Crabtree said he was turning left into a parking lot, but halted to allow another driver to pull off the lot. Cullifer reported Crabtree's car drifted backward and hit his auto.

Rotarians Here Are Shown Film On Grid Browns

A film on highlights of the 1966 Cleveland Browns football season was screened by Robert McNea, East Liverpool High School athletic director, when Rotary Club met Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

The movie showed how the Browns, who tied for second place in the NFL Eastern Division last year, compensated for the loss of retired back Jimmy Brown.

With standout players like Frank Ryan and Paul Warfield, in addition to new stars like Leroy Kelly, the Browns were able to overcome the absence of Brown, the film pointed out.

Arthur Doak presided.

Burgettstown Area Teachers On Strike

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The board president of the Burgettstown Area School District says the district's teachers have informed him they will not report for work today.

Board President Neil Phillips said he received a telegram from the Burgettstown Area Education Association Tuesday saying the organization's 136 members had declared a "professional holiday."

The two sides have been negotiating a new wage scale for 4½ months without success. The teachers rejected the latest offer Monday night.

Hancock Board Alters Research Plan At Weir

Research by a faculty and an administration committee was culminated Tuesday night when the Hancock County Board of Education officially adopted new proposals for the student independent research program at Weir High School during a special meeting.

The program, which will go into effect with the fall term, will change the students' routine only at Weir High, with Oak Glen retaining the present research program.

Previously, all students had been assigned to the program but the new proposals make it an elective, with the student "initiating the research and generating his own enthusiasm for it."

THE PROGRAM will now permit only students electing it the privilege of unassigned time at the school. Under the old program all students had unassigned time. The committee generally agreed this was not a satisfactory situation, since many "chose to sit on a bench outside school instead of working on research projects."

The program provides for five points of credit for the first two years and 10 points for the third year. However, students will not be permitted the third year of work if they have not selected the program two years previously.

A student now will be dropped from the program if he or she fails to show a genuine interest or fails to make progress. In this case the student will forfeit unassigned time and be returned to a study hall.

Assistant Supt. Charles McKinney will present the program to all Weir High teachers today and to the Parent - Teacher Association of the school tonight.

SPOKESMEN for the teachers told the board they were in general agreement with the program. "It has merits," they said, "and we are willing to make it work."

Dr. John Brand, a board member, noted, "It's a step in the right direction."

Dr. Eli Weller said he was pleased with the reaction of the teachers and added, "But I wonder if we shouldn't have some general criteria for selection of students in the program." He indicated, however, he was not in favor of stringent requirements and was told by teachers they did not favor a student's grades as the basis for admission.

Board Member Fred Barnabei said he believes the teachers at Oak Glen are satisfied with the research program as it presently stands. McKinney told members he plans to present and discuss the program with teachers there.

Weller said he hopes "the mechanism will now be available for communication between the administration and the teachers so serious problems won't develop." Both board members and teachers commented on the general harmony present throughout last night's meeting.

McKinney said following the session that no personnel additions are anticipated because of the change in the research program, but more may be added due to increased enrollment.

THE HIRING of four new teachers was approved by the board Monday night.

They are: Marian Frances Coletti of Weirton, who will teach in the secondary schools; Mary Beth Nicksick of Burgettstown, assigned to the elementary schools; Faith B. Troan of Weirton, elementary schools, and Lynn F. Caseman of Wellsburg, presently teaching in the Steubenville school system, elementary schools.

A long discussion Monday night kicked off by Dr. Weller concerning the role the schools will play in the summer Neighborhood Youth Corps project.

McKinney informed members the school will provide training for seven girls and one boy for 26 weeks. They will be employed in custodial (girls) and maintenance services.

He said the board must approve the selection of eight in order to provide bus transportation to and from their jobs.

McKinney noted the youths will serve 30 hours a week and will be supervised by the head of the building and grounds department of the school system. They will receive $1.25 an hour from the federal government.

Weller asked McKinney what responsibilities the school and board had in the program and what type of supervision would be provided. McKinney said they have no responsibility other than the supervision of the students. He said action by the board was needed so the eight can ride the school buses. He further noted this will not be a special bus, but one used to transport students to school.

A LETTER was received from Donald Donnel, assistant county prosecutor, concerning the legal liability of the school in the distribution of tickets to youngsters for Rock Springs park. The letter noted the school and the board incur no liability in the matter as long as they receive no compensation or do not actively seek to participate in the plan.

The free tickets are supplied by the owners of the park and have been distributed in the school system for a number of years.

Dr. Weller and President John Paul Jones had opposed the plan and asked for the ruling.

Tabled for further action was a proposed code of discipline for the county school system.

It was shelved when a number of teachers attending the session asked why they had not been included in the study committee. The code had been drawn up by a committee of principals. The board instructed a committee of classroom teachers and a principal's committee to work out details.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ada Stewart, secretary at New Cumberland Junior High School.

Teacher resignations accepted were: James E. Workman, Mrs. Carol Denty, Eugene R. Padeszwa and Willie Tucker, Jr. A leave of absence for the coming year was granted Mrs. Elizabeth Pugh.

Approved were the New Cumberland Junior High School band to participate at Memorial Day services there and in the volunteer firemen's parade on June 16; the Oak Glen Band to partiipate in the Newell Volunteer Fire Department parade June 30 and the Chester Volunteer Firemen's Parade Aug. 4.

William Allison, Thelma Daugherty and Robert Shaffer, members of the Classroom Teachers Association, will attend the state CTA presidents' conference at West Virginia Tech June 2 and 3.

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began,
we've been catering
to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands.
Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want
in our self-service meat departments.
Others have specific needs...
the steak must be 2½" thick, the chops double thick and so forth.
That's no problem
If you don't see it...just ask. We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers".
the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats.
Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice
just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

A&P

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began,
we've been catering
to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands.
Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want
in our self-service meat departments.
Others have specific needs...
the steak must be 2½" thick, the chops double thick and so forth.
That's no problem
If you don't see it...just ask. We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"..
the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats.
Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice
just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

3 Youths Change Beer Case Story; Penalties Levied

LISBON — Three Southern Local High School youths who told local police an 18-year-old student bought a case of beer for them here early Saturday had a different account Monday for Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court.

Hand on the Bible, each said they stole the case from the back of the older boy's station wagon in the school parking lot. Their parents had given them permission to go on the after-prom bus trip to Youngstown.

Lisbon police stopped the youths — two 17 and one 16 — at 1:45 a.m. Saturday. The boys admitted yesterday they drank 18 bottles of beer before police stopped them. They said they didn't tell police they stole it because they thought that it would be worse for them than if they had someone buy it.

Only the 16 - year - old had a driver's license, and he was driving his father's car. Judge Tobin suspended his driver's license for 60 days and ordered the other boys not to apply for a license before Sept. 1.

The court fined each youth $25, which is to be paid at $3 per week with money earned; placed each on a 9 p.m. curfew for 30 days, and ordered each to report weekly to Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt of Lisbon for the next three months. They also have to reimburse the youth who had the beer.

Housewife Wins Honors

College 'For Fun' Discloses Ability

A Wellsville woman who gets ideas for short stories and novelettes while she's doing her housework has won the Anna Ulen Engleman award for superior achievement in imaginative writing at Kent State University.

Mrs. Ellen K. Forbes, who delayed her college education until her sons had finished school, received the $60 book award at Honors Day today.

The award, given annually, honors the wife of a former Kent president, Dr. James Ozro Engleman.

An English major with a psychology minor, Mrs. Forbes had never written before she started classes "for fun" four years ago at Kent.

Encouraged by her freshman English teacher to continue her writing, Mrs. Forbes decided to finish her college education and go into teaching. She will graduate next month with a B-plus average.

"My husband (Dean L. Forbes, a dairy farmer) is a very patient man. He has encouraged my college education and puts up with my hours of study at home."

"I plan to submit several articles to national magazines and hope they will be published. Maybe I can combine my teaching career with writing."

Mrs. Forbes' sons are Dean Lee Forbes, 23, a history teacher at Southern Local High School, and William Brian Forbes, 20, a specialist four with the Army at Ft. Knox.

Commissioners' Action Due On Subdivision Regulations

LISBON — The adoption of subdivision regulations for Columbiana County will be acted upon by the county commissioners at their regular meeting Thursday.

Tentative approval already has been given, but official action remains. A public hearing as required by law was held May 4 in the commissioners' office.

The regulations were prepared by a committee of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission at meetings held frequently during 1966. They later were approved by the planning commission and recommended to the county commissioners for adoption.

A representative group from all sections of the county made up the committee. Among members were township trustees, civil engineers and realtors. Richard Sanford of East Liverpool, president of the County Association of Trustees and Clerks, was committee chairman.

The purpose of subdivision regulations is to protect owners and taxpayers, according to Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president of the Regional Planning Commission.

Many of the housing developers in the county already are doing virtually all that is required by the regulations, he said. However, a few developers are building houses in allotments without sewer systems where septic tanks will not function because of impervious soil, he added.

In some cases the streets are inadequately built, with the result that they must later be rebuilt and widened at public expense, Lower said. The regulations were proposed to prevent these costly mistakes, he pointeed out.

Subdivision regulations have been found necessary in all of the more populous counties, Lower continued. He emphasized that the regulations have no relationship to zoning, which can be adopted only by a vote of the people.

Several minor changes were made following the May 4 hearing to meet objections. Additional changes in the regulations can be made after adoption by the county commissioners if experience shows such need.

Housewife Wins Honors

College 'For Fun' Discloses Ability

A Wellsville woman who gets ideas for short stories and novelettes while she's doing her housework has won the Anna Ulen Engleman award for superior achievement in imaginative writing at Kent State University.

Mrs. Ellen K. Forbes, who delayed her college education until her sons had finished school, received the $60 book award at Honors Day today.

The award, given annually, honors the wife of a former Kent president, Dr. James Ozro Engleman.

Canton GI Given 15 Years In Pen For Armed Theft

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A soldier from Canton, Ohio, stationed at nearby Ft. Lewis, was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years in prison in connection with two armed robberies in the suburban Lakewood area earlier this year.

Spec. 4 Robert A. Cox, 21, was sentenced after pleading guilty to a reduced charge of grand larceny for posession of property stolen in the holdups. He originally was charged with first-degree robbery.

Cox, who Army authorities said originally lived at Dennison, Ohio, was the second of four defendants to be sentenced in connection with the robberies. The state said he drove the getaway car but did not actually participate in the holdups.

Judge Bartlett Rummel rejected a request by Cox's attoney that he be given a suspended sentence because he had no prior record and had cooperated with authorities. The judge said he felt the reduction of the charge provided recognition of his cooperation "and the crime of robbery is a very serious one, a crime of potential violence."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband sells insurance. He is sociable and handsome and women always have been attracted to him.

Many of his clients live in the suburbs. He collects from them on a regular basis, which he says is better than depending on them to mail in the premiums. I know many of his clients, in fact two are women he went to high school with and are very pleasant and friendly. He has told me they fix coffee.

Three times in the last month I've needed him for emergencies. Once I ran out of money and twice our child became ill. I got in my car and went to look for him. Twice I found him having coffee in one woman's house and the third time he was standing on the porch talking.

I know he didn't like the idea of my looking for him but then I don't like the idea of him being so friendly with his clients. If he is not doing anything wrong, why does he object so strenuously? — MRS. Z-20.

Dear Z: Your husband has a right to be resentful. Do you know what you do to him in the eyes of his clients when you track him down?

Women who don't trust their husbands always manage to find something to worry about. If they fail to turn up solid evidence their imaginations manufacture something just as good. Drop the bloodhound act before you create a real problem.

Unforgiving

Dear Ann: For years I've been meaning to write to you as a joke, to see if I could fool you into believing my letter was legitimate. Now I'm writing the real thing.

Two months ago my sister was killed in a car accident. Her boy friend, Mike, was driving and I was in the car, too. We weren't even scratched.

The accident was not Mike's fault. Everyone knows that, but I can't help hating him just the same. My folks keep inviting Mike over because they feel sorry for him and they want to show him they don't hold him responsible, but I'm getting so I can't stand the sight of the guy.

I've tried to talk to my school counselor but I can't get the words out. I end up pretending I came to talk about something else. Can you help me? — THE PRETENDER.

Dear Pretender: Writing to me was a giant step in the right direction. Now you must unburden yourself to your school counselor. Take this column in as an ice breaker. Hand it to the counselor and say, "This is my letter." The rest will come.

Hello Or Goodbye

Dear Ann: Recently a girl wrote to say her date (who had spent $14) was very let-down because she gave him only a verbal thank you for the evening.

You said, "If a girl wants to show her appreciation for a pleasant evening, a nice friendly 'thank you' plus a Methodist handshake is adequate."

Please tell me, Ann Landers, what is a Methodist handshake? — IGNORANCE IN NEW YORK.

Dear New York: A Methodist handshake is a Midwestern term, which means "Greetings, friend" — or "Goodbye, Buddy."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—Can you suggest any way in which I can create a rough imitation sanded finish on plastered walls?

A.—Try mixing cornmeal with your paint before applying it. The fine particles of the meal should be sifted out and the coarser portions stirred into the paint. The cornmeal, being of approximately the same density as the paint, will stay suspended in the mixture. The amount of sanded finish is governed, of course, by the amount of cornmeal you add to your paint.

Q.—How can I make an easy and better job of cementing wood and metal together with household cement?

A.—Soak the metal pieces in acetone, being careful not to touch the surface after soaking —and your cement will then make a good bond.

Q.—How can I clean straw matting?

A.—Wash with a cloth dampened in hot salt water, using a handful of salt to a bucket of hot water. Wash only a small area at a time, and wipe dry at once. This also prevents the matting from turning yellow.

A Crucible merit scholarship will help Gary Barringer to study medicine

One of four children of employes to win a Crucible Steel Foundation scholarship is Gary Barringer, son of John N. Barringer, a member of the Maintenance division at Midland works. Gary, who will graduate next month from East Liverpool high school, plans to attend Ohio State University to study medicine.

Gary earned the Crucible scholarship by successfully completing two qualifying examinations given by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation which administers Crucible's program. The exams are tough —only one percent of the thousands of students who try, achieve merit scholar distinction. Scholarships are for four years to the college of the winner's choice and are valued from $250 to $1500 annually. The amount each winner receives is based on need as determined by the NMSC.

The program is one of several sponsored by Crucible to help young people further their education. The company considers such support as an investment not only in America's future but Crucible's as well.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

A Sponsor With Taste

A Sponsor With Taste .....

Everybody who wasn't born yesterday knows that commercial TV is primarily designed to move goods into the hands and mouths of consumers.

Hal Humphrey

Even so, it is heartening to learn there are some men of commerce who don't believe in complete integration of the sales pitch with the so-called entertainment.

Alfred di Scipio, the one responsible for his company's choosing to sponsor the recent Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass special, as well as last fall's Tony Bennett special, believes the artist or performer always should be separated from the TV commercial.

"YOU MAY HAVE noticed," says Di Scipio, "we didn't even have Herb or Tony do lead-ins such as, 'and now a word from . . .' That would be like attending a concert, then walking into the foyer during intermission and finding the sponsor himself behind the counter selling that horrible orange drink they sell in theaters."

Di Scipio admits some eyebrows were raised among the account executives at the J. Walter Thompson ad agency when he told them there were to be no Tony Bennett or Herb Alpert lead-ins to the commercials.

The whole Madison Avenue structure trembles when such a basic sales tenet is questioned.

"I WON'T SAY we'll never do it, or that it's wrong for other sponsors," Di Scipio states, "but we think it works better for us to have commercials compatible, but separate. Frank Sinatra can get by with playing the bartender in his beer commercials, but I personally would rather not see him do it in his specials.

"We like Vic Damone, who will do Dean Martin's Summer Show, and it's possible we might buy some spots on it and have Vic do a lead-in, but that's a regular variety show. In the concert-type special I believe it demeans the artist."

Di Scipio's father was a cellist, a fact which may bear on his feelings for the artist or performer and what they create. He let producers Dwight Hemion and Gary Smith pick their own spots for the commercials in the Herb Alpert special, and when Di Scipio said they might go as long as 25 minutes without an interruption they didn't believe him until it happened.

AT A RECENT luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Advertising Club, Di Scipio expounded his philosophy before the members, some of whom received it in stunned silence. They probably were the ones representing TV and radio.

The print media boys naturally aren't keen on hearing anyone discuss broadcast advertising, but they loved Di Scipio's orange drink analogy.

They also applauded him for taking a polite poke at the commercials themselves and the Nielsen rating system.

Di Scipio is convinced that the entertainment or so-called gimmick commercial may be appreciated by viewers as a piece of 60- or 90-second diversion, but it doesn't sell the product.

"Most viewers can't even remember what's being advertised when you ask them," he adds.

AS FOR RATINGS, Di Scipio (pronounced dee-shipio, incidentally) says his company has its own rating system and that it is more reliable than Nielsen's.

Before the Bennett and Alpert specials went on the air, the firm distributed viewer survey questionnaires to its 2,000 retail outlets. Each customer is asked two questions: Did you watch TV last night between 9 and 10? If you did, which show and how much of it?

"Nielsen showed the Alpert special dropped a third of its audience in the second half of the show, but our own survey proved it had gained in the second half, and I believe ours is more correct than Nielsen," says Di Scipio.

He added, too, that he has a gardener, a gas station attendant and an indirect contact with a bartender, all of whom he considers great bellwethers for judging the TV audience pulse.

Ponderous beats are comparatively light eaters. For instance, a 4,700 - pound elephant eats 94 pounds of food a day, or about 20 pounds per 1,000 pounds of body weight; a hippopotamus eats 49 pounds of food daily, or a mere 12 pounds of food per 1,000 pounds of its body weight.

'Blister Derby' Staged At Spring Scout Camporee

LISBON — Camp McKinley north of Lisbon was the stepping off point for Shawnee District Boy Scouts' "blister derby" last weekend.

The annual spring Camporee attracted 219 Scouts, 39 adult leaders and a staff of 13. Hikers left camp at 10-minute intervals beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday, hiked to the Salem reservoir spillway, then entered the woods and hiked back to camp following the creek.

Along the trail they performed the required activities—signaling and identification of trees, animal tracks and edible wild plants.

The Rev. William Woodall of Leetonia Presbyterian Church conducted a worship service at camp Sunday morning and Catholic Scouts attended Mass at St. George Church here. After services, the boys competed in three projects — silent signals, archery and a fun game.

Winning patrols in the contests were: First—Mohawk, Columbiana Troop 18, Jim Dillen, leader; Second — Panther, Salem Troop 2, Niles Kynett, leader, and Third — Flying Arrow, Salem Troop 2, Don Ackerman, leader.

Troops with the highest scores based on an average of all the patrols in the troops were: First — Troop 2, Salem Methodist Church, Scoutmaster Donald Heim; Second — Troop 18, Columbiana American Legion, Scoutmaster Norman Spiker, and Third — New Waterford Troop 35, Fairfield - Waterford Parent - Teacher Association, Scoutmaster Norman Wilhelm.

The Order of the Arrow had a fellowship meeting after the Saturday night campfire. D. J. Kern of Homeworth was Camporee chief.

Illinois Man Clawed By Cat, Gets Rabies

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — The first 1967 case of rabies in Adams County was revealed when Glenn W. Mixer, 34, was clawed by a cat on the right leg.

Frank E. Rosendale, deputy rabies inspector, said in 1966 there were six cases, five involving skunks and one a fox. In 1965 there were 25 cases, 21 involving skunks, three cattle and a fox.

"I imagine that the cat which attacked Mr. Mixer had been bitten by a rabid skunk," Rosendale said. "But there is no way of knowing for sure."

Barbershoppers Place Second In Chorus Contest

Announcement that the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter placed second in the chorus competition held over the weekend in Pittsburgh was made at the regular session Monday night at the Elks Club ballroom.

The Three Rivers Chapter from Pittsburgh placed first in the competition of the seven choruses held by the Eastern Division of the Johnny Appleseed District at Forest Hills Junior High School.

Glenn Woods, director, thanked the 27 who were able to make the trip. Families accompanied the chorus members and the entire group had dinner together.

The five winning quartets were the "Travelers," "Circle W 4," "Point 4," "Laurel Highlands" and "Bon Aires." They will compete in the district contest Oct. 28 at Cleveland. The two winning groups will represent the JAD at the international event in July 1968 at Pittsburgh.

James Raffle, president, conducted business when a discussion was held on future goals.

Woods appointed section leaders: Raffle, tenor; Dean Manning and Fred Kane, lead; George Wise and Don Schussler, baritone, and Dick Kuhn and Bob Kittridge, bass.

Tom Miller was introduced as a guest.

Coffee was served 31 by Glen Hart.

New members will be recognized at next Monday's session.

Nixon Backers Open Up Fancy Political Shop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Promoters of Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination have opened one of the capital's fancier political shops a block from the White House.

In vivid red, white and blue, with Nixon's name emblazoned on two stories, the command post is hard to miss.

Formally, the national Nixon for President Committee opens its Pennsylvania Avenue headquarters tonight. Newsmen got a preview tour Tuesday.

They also got a mimeographed memorandum, marked confidential, which said Nixon is considered by 42 per cent of the people to be the Republican best qualified for the White House. Michigan Gov. George Romney is 20 per centage points behind in a national poll, the memo said.

Neither Nixon nor Romney has declared himself in the race for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, but both are behaving like candidates.

Romney has headquarters in Washington, too, four blocks from the new Nixon establishment. But it is somewhat less noticeable, located on the eighth floor of an office building.

U.S. Musician Cancels Appearance In Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — One prominent American musician has canceled an appearance in Israel because of the Middle East crisis but two others are staying to sing.

Erich Leinsdorf, conductor of the Boston Symphony, left Tuesday after the U.S. Embassy advised all Americans who could to leave the area. He had been conducting the Israeli Philharmonic in a series of concerts and had one more scheduled, on June 3.

Soprano Roberta Peters, here with her husband, plans to go ahead with concerts she has scheduled for the next few days. So does tenor Richard Tucker.

There is no way known by which scientists can determine the exact age of a wild mammal, but they can gather a general idea from the wear of its teeth, provided they know the average life span of the species.

A Sponsor With Taste

A Sponsor With Taste .....

Everybody who wasn't born yesterday knows that commercial TV is primarily designed to move goods into the hands and mouths of consumers.

Hal Humphrey

Even so, it is heartening to learn there are some men of commerce who don't believe in complete integration of the sales pitch with the so-called entertainment.

Alfred di Scipio, the one responsible for his company's choosing to sponsor the recent Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass special, as well as last fall's Tony Bennett special, believes the artist or performer always should be separated from the TV commercial.

"YOU MAY HAVE noticed," says Di Scipio, "we didn't even have Herb or Tony do lead-ins such as, 'and now a word from . . .' That would be like attending a concert, then walking into the foyer during intermission and finding the sponsor himself behind the counter selling that horrible orange drink they sell in theaters."

Di Scipio admits some eyebrows were raised among the account executives at the J. Walter Thompson ad agency when he told them there were to be no Tony Bennett or Herb Alpert lead-ins to the commercials.

The whole Madison Avenue structure trembles when such a basic sales tenet is questioned.

"I WON'T SAY we'll never do it, or that it's wrong for other sponsors," Di Scipio states, "but we think it works better for us to have commercials compatible, but separate. Frank Sinatra can get by with playing the bartender in his beer commercials, but I personally would rather not see him do it in his specials.

"We like Vic Damone, who will do Dean Martin's Summer Show, and it's possible we might buy some spots on it and have Vic do a lead-in, but that's a regular variety show. In the concert-type special I believe it demeans the artist."

Di Scipio's father was a cellist, a fact which may bear on his feelings for the artist or performer and what they create. He let producers Dwight Hemion and Gary Smith pick their own spots for the commercials in the Herb Alpert special, and when Di Scipio said they might go as long as 25 minutes without an interruption they didn't believe him until it happened.

AT A RECENT luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Advertising Club, Di Scipio expounded his philosophy before the members, some of whom received it in stunned silence. They probably were the ones representing TV and radio.

The print media boys naturally aren't keen on hearing anyone discuss broadcast advertising, but they loved Di Scipio's orange drink analogy.

They also applauded him for taking a polite poke at the commercials themselves and the Nielsen rating system.

Di Scipio is convinced that the entertainment or so-called gimmick commercial may be appreciated by viewers as a piece of 60- or 90-second diversion, but it doesn't sell the product.

"Most viewers can't even remember what's being advertised when you ask them," he adds.

AS FOR RATINGS, Di Scipio (pronounced dee-shipio, incidentally) says his company has its own rating system and that it is more reliable than Nielsen's.

Before the Bennett and Alpert specials went on the air, the firm distributed viewer survey questionnaires to its 2,000 retail outlets. Each customer is asked two questions: Did you watch TV last night between 9 and 10? If you did, which show and how much of it?

"Nielsen showed the Alpert special dropped a third of its audience in the second half of the show, but our own survey proved it had gained in the second half, and I believe ours is more correct than Nielsen," says Di Scipio.

He added, too, that he has a gardener, a gas station attendant and an indirect contact with a bartender, all of whom he considers great bellwethers for judging the TV audience pulse.

Ponderous beats are comparatively light eaters. For instance, a 4,700 - pound elephant eats 94 pounds of food a day, or about 20 pounds per 1,000 pounds of body weight; a hippopotamus eats 49 pounds of food daily, or a mere 12 pounds of food per 1,000 pounds of its body weight.

Junior Editors Quiz on WHEELS

QUESTION: How would we live without the wheel?

ANSWER: Wheels are essential in machinery—and machinery is essential in our mechanical age. Consequently, it is impossible to say exactly what modern life would be like without them. But we can do a bit of speculating. In ancient days (top picture), most power was supplied by human labor, using countless numbers of slaves. The Great Pyramid had 2,300,000 blocks. It took 40 men to move a single block. When the wheel was first invented in Mesopotamia, it was used to roll war chariots along rather than to reduce the labor of slaves. Later, however, wheels helped in the invention of steam engines, made railroads possible and brought in our scientific and industrial civilization. Now the work once done by slave labor and later by draught animals is more and more being performed by machines. It seems possible that without wheels, most of us would be hauling weights by manpower and lugging farm produce step by step. What would civilization be like in other ways? You'll have to think out the answer to this by yourself.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Many of you have been asking for some hints on making cabbage slaw.

First, do not cut the cabbage while it is warm. This is the secret to getting thin, crispy, cole slaw. I cut cabbage in half the day before, cover it with water, and put it in the refrigerator in a covered container.

The next day I take out that cold, crunchy cabbage and start slicing. Slaw is NOT grated. It is either cut on a slicer (which most of us have or can buy for less than a dollar at the dime store, or with a knife . . . which takes more time. Make it as thin as possible for the best results.

Now, if you forger to put the cabbage under water ahead of time . . . cut the cabbage in half and start slicing from the inside. Wet two paper napkins. Put half of the thinly sliced cabbage in the bottom of a bowl. Lay one wet napkin on top of this layer. Put in the rest of the cabbage and lay the second wet napkin over all.

Next, place the bowl of cabbage in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator for fifteen or twenty minutes. As soon as you see that the wet paper napkins is brittle (which means it is frozen), take the bowl out quickly.

Don't touch the slaw with your hands. Pour on your favorite dressing and mix it with a fork by tossing. Serve immediately.

Superb crunchy slaw!

HELOISE.

P.S. I wonder if you all are aware that the core of the cabbage is tasty hot? When I grate it, people tell me it is the greatest and ask if I put horseradish in it. I never have, but I always use the core . . . for grating purposes, not slicing.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: My husband is a salesman and requires a white shirt and tie every day.

He likes clip-on ties so much better than the regular ones, that the clip-on ties wore out first. So I cut about six inches from the middle of his regular ties to make them the same length as the others. Then I just put the plastic clip from the old clip-on tie into the new one I made.

Be sure to cut it and sew it where the seam will be underneath the knot. I used an old tie that was beyond wear as a pattern so as not to ruin a good tie.

IMOGENE HANCOCK.

DEAR HELOISE: Those of you who use liquid wax for your waxing jobs will find that using a plastic squeeze bottle for the wax is very convenient.

Just squeeze the wax in front of the wax applicator as you go along.

This makes the job much easier and faster.

The leftover wax can be left right in the bottle for the next time and the only part that needs to be washed is the cap.

MRS. RICHARD ROHE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have heard different people make the statement that they would put fabric softener in their last rinse water if they could catch the automatic washer at the right time.

When I got my new washer, I stayed at the washer the first time to see how many minutes it took from start until the last rinse, then jotted the time down.

I then set my timer on my stove so I would know when to add my fabric softener.

I do this now everytime I want to add fabric softener and it never fails.

MRS. MONA SMITH.

Mona, doll, your brain was really generating when you figured this out.

It is amazing that so many appliances are developed by mechanical geniuses . . . to be used by us who are not.

And it took you, a housewife, to find out for us. Great!

Love,

DEAR HELOISE: Instead of using shaving cream on legs and under the arms, try hand lotion when shaving those places.

It works smoothly, leaves legs soft and there is no stinging or burning or rinsing afterwards. I just rub the excess lotion in.

MRS. FREDEDER.

Living Costs Jumped .3% During April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in April for the sharpest increase in six months and indications are they will go higher, the Labor Department reported.

"We're not out of the woods," said Commissioner of Labor Statistics Arthur M. Ross.

But he held to his earlier prediction of an over-all price rise of 2.5 per cent this year compared with 3.3 per cent last year.

The April increase brought the consumer price index, measuring typical family purchases, to 115.3. This means it cost $11.53 to purchase items worth $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Food prices last month dropped four-tenths of one per cent, but were offset by increases for clothing, furniture, gasoline and ever-rising medical costs.

The bureau said wholesale prices declined in April but preliminary information for May indicated a five-tenths of one per cent rise, primarily because of higher wholesale prices for food.

Ross said the higher wholesale prices may not be reflected in the May report on living costs, but if they continue upward "sooner or later they will have an effect on the price of retail food."

Ross said the higher wholesale prices may not be reflected in the May report on living costs, but if they continue upward "sooner or later they will have an effect on the price of retail food."

In a companion report, released for the first time, the bureau said average weekly earnings of some 44 million American workers rose 40 cents in April after taxes, but increased prices wiped out all but 15 cents of the gain and purchasing power was lower than a year ago.

The average weekly earnings figures were $89.15 for workers with three dependents and $81.75 for single workers.

Housing costs went up three-tenths of one per cent in April, clothing four-tenths, transportation eight-tenths and medical care four-tenths.

Higher fire insurance rates and property taxes contributed to the rise in home maintenance.

In its report on wholesale prices, average industrial commodities held steady but chemcials, lumber and paper went up. Prices for metals and rubber declined.

More than one million workers with cost-of-living clauses in their contracts will receive pay hikes, because of the April rise in retail prices.
